For students the year was people. Twelve hundred individuals who worked, laughed and made memories together. Knowledge gleaned from tattered books meant little until put into practice. With curriculum varying from Boy's Home Ec to Senior English each individual department presented a challenge to greatness.

Star-Spencer shed seventh and eighth grades to Rogers Middle School this fall, becoming a full-fledged high school. Student life in a "new" school opened closed eyes to a world of responsibility.

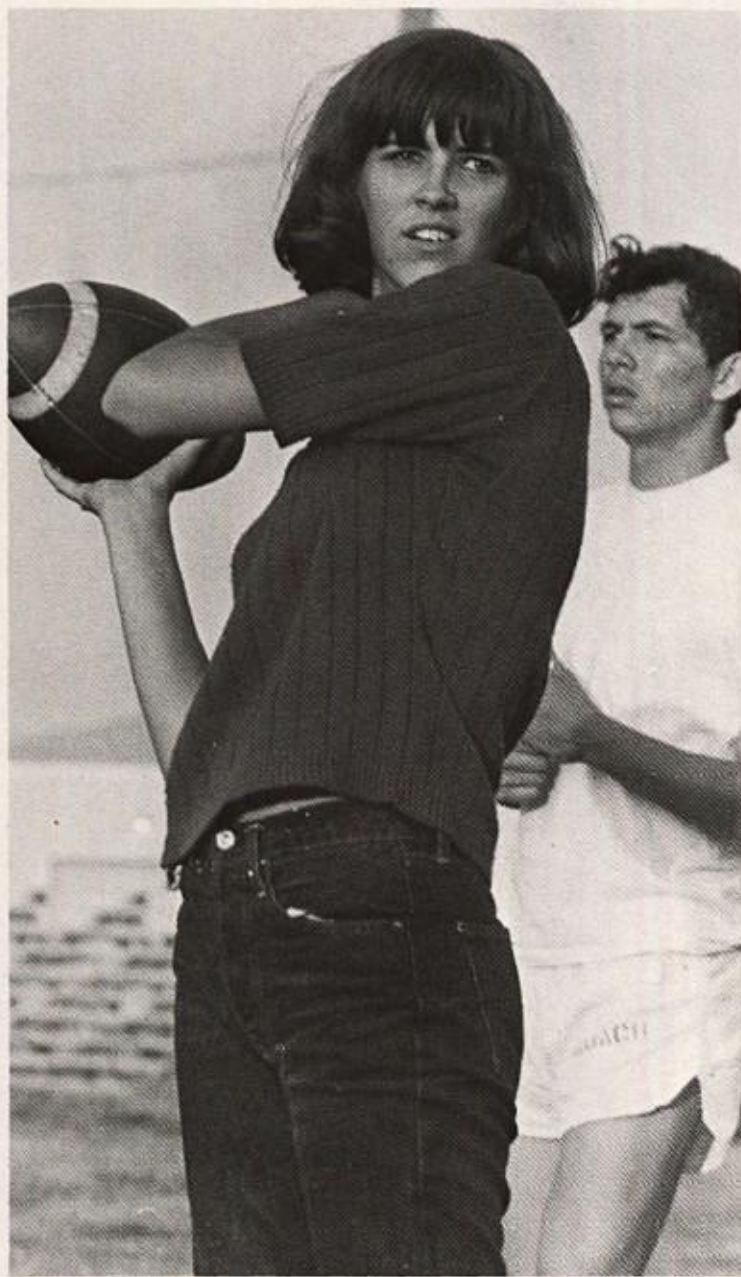

Scholar gypsies abandoned their books in search for companionship. Student life meant spirit-rousing revelry—winding Maypole antennas with navy and white victory streamers and cheering when cheerleaders' pom-poms punctuate the air. Blithe spirits banded together making their own happenings.

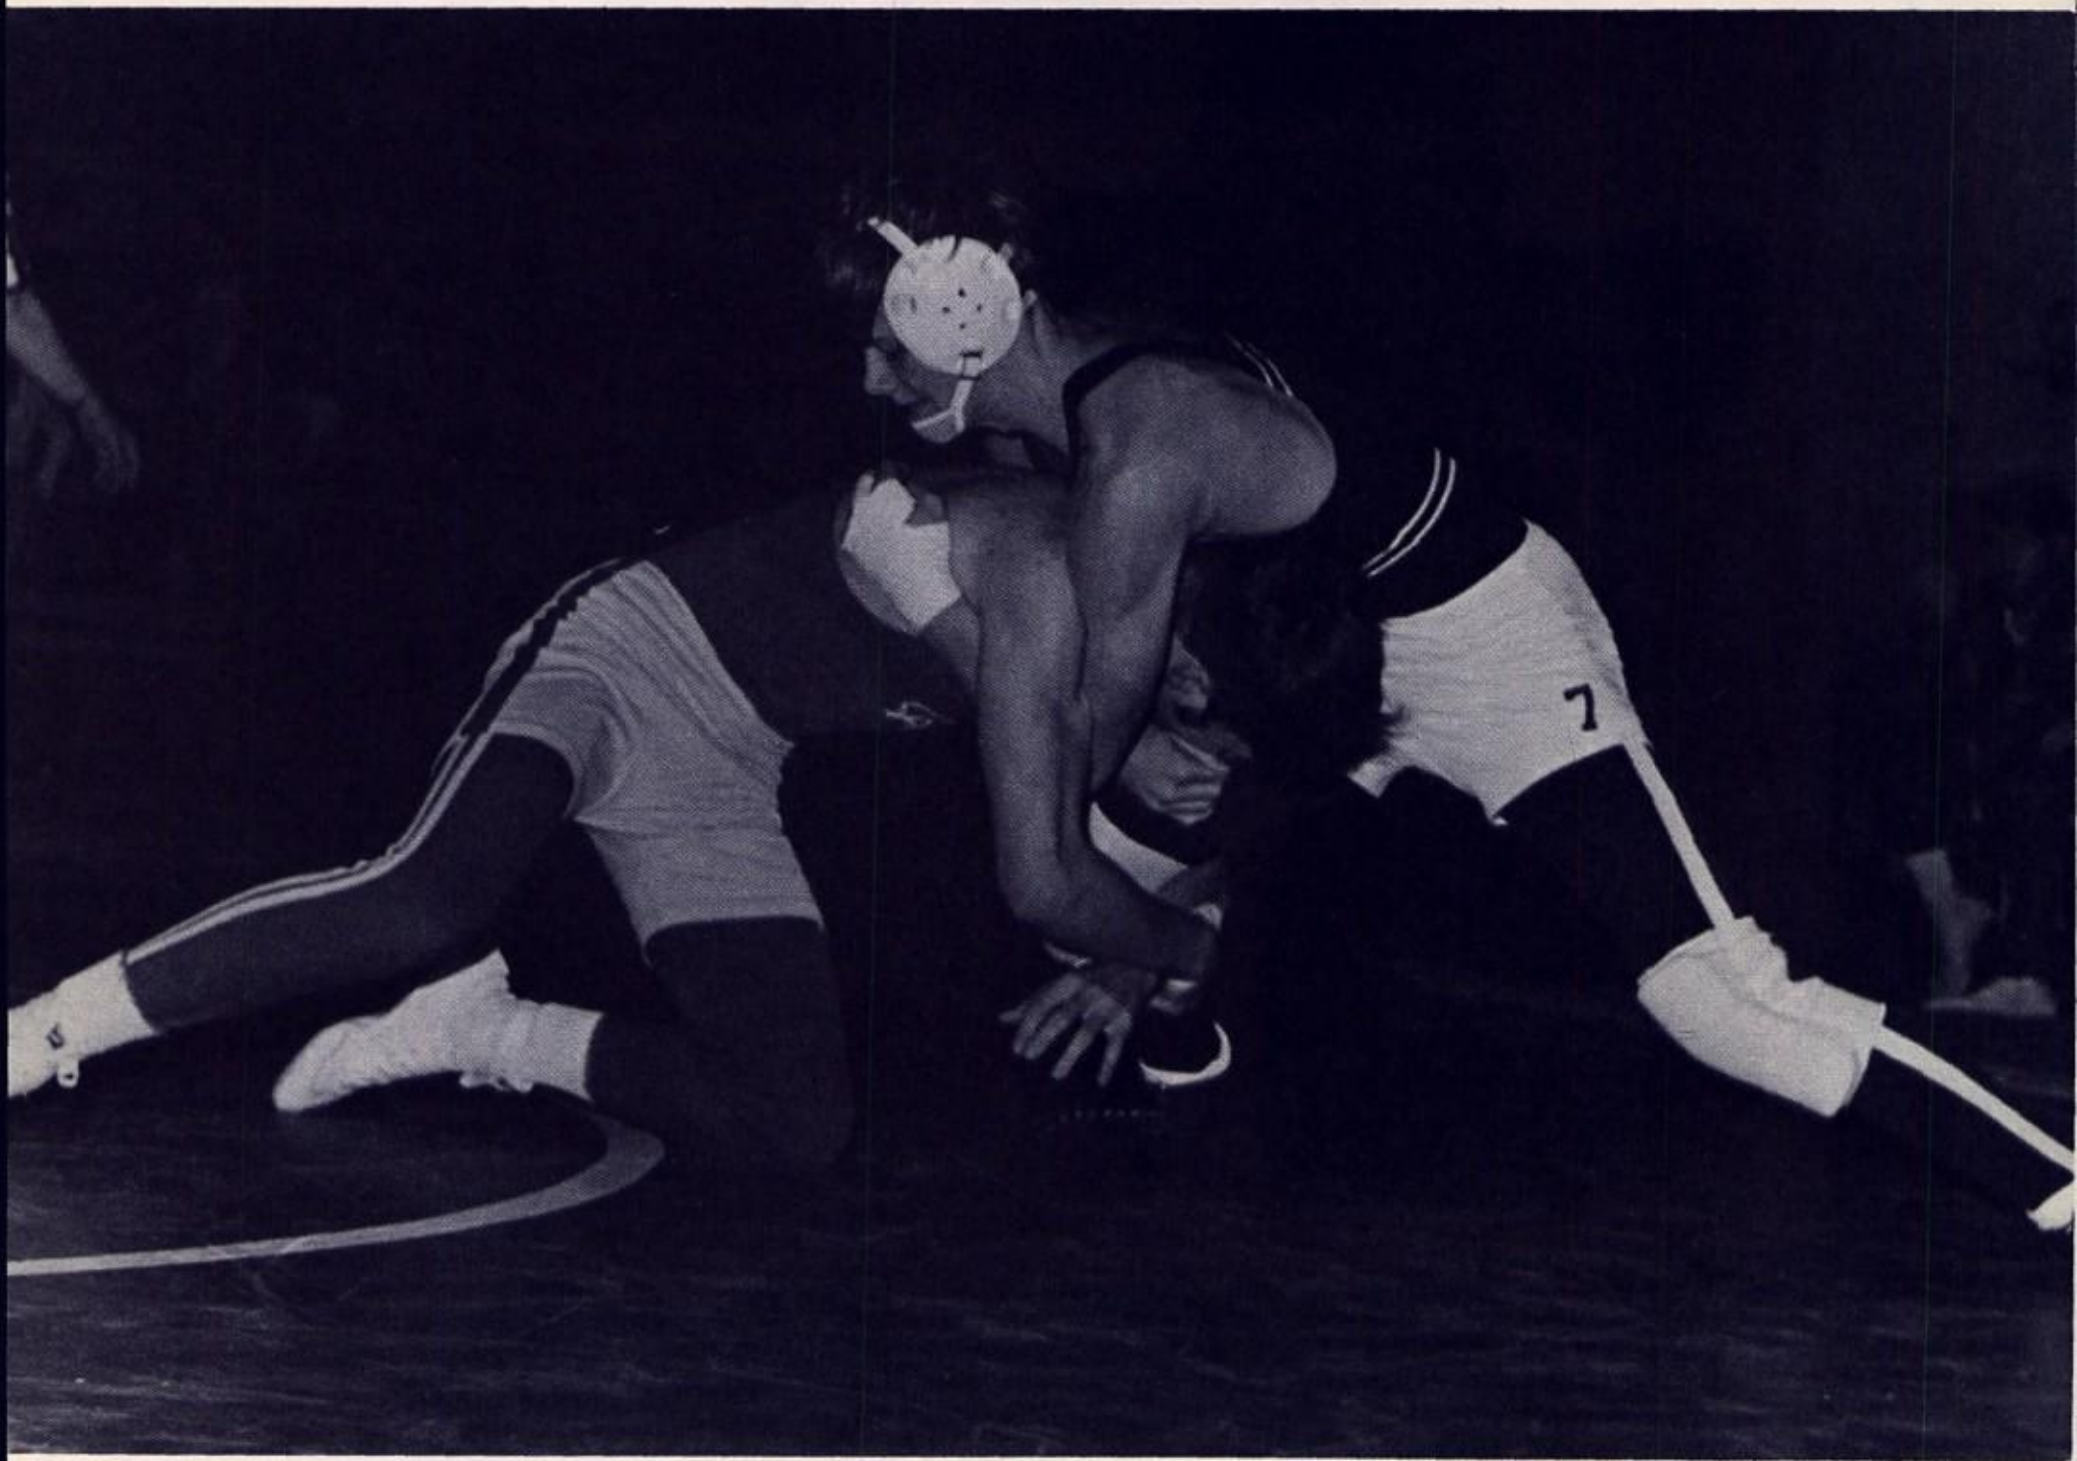

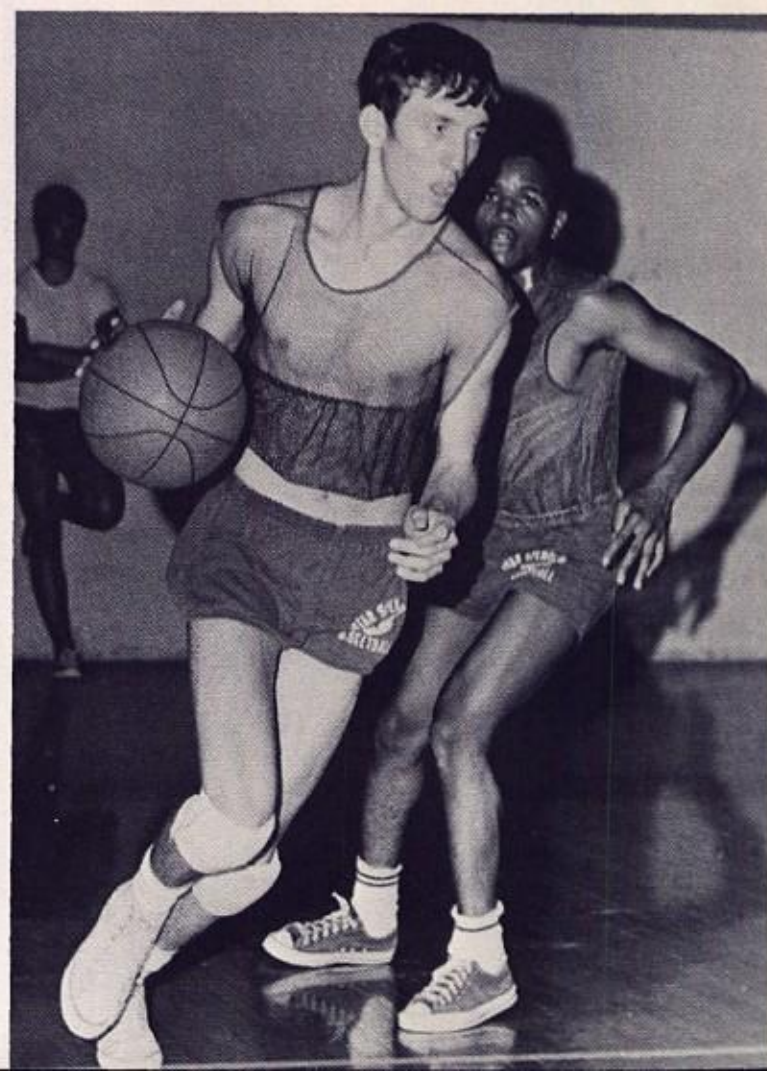

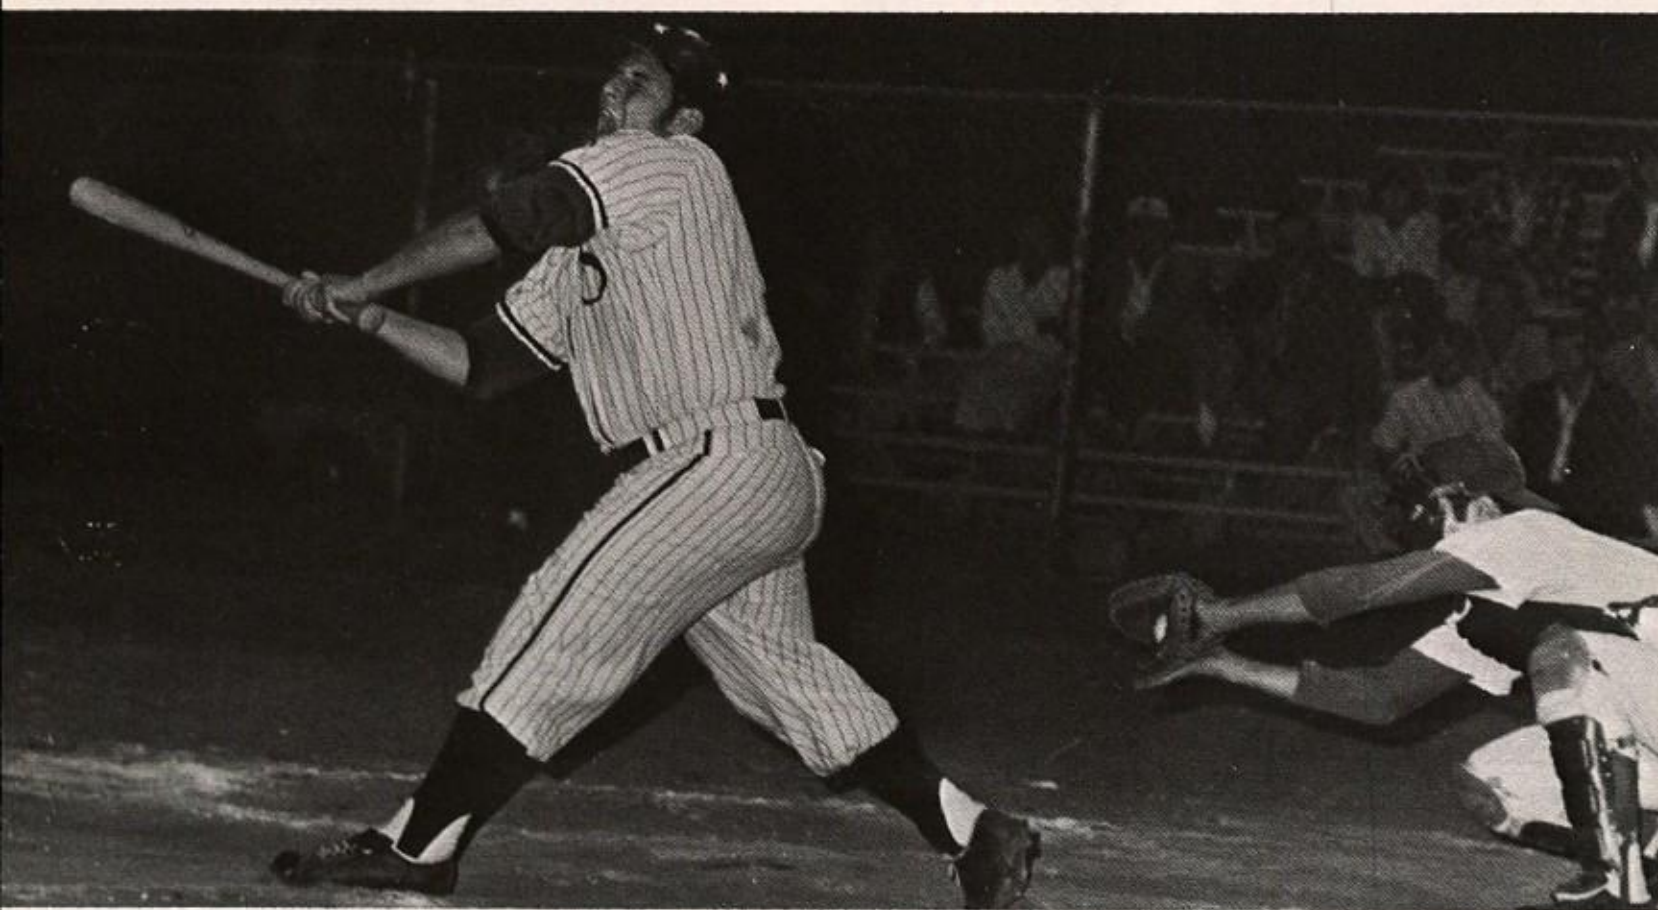

Star-Spencer offered more than dry lectures, superficial friendships or plastic smiles. Through efforts of 31 organizations students were offered a chance to bring about change in their government, to improve human relations, to further interest in a vocation and develop leadership.

Through efforts of individuals games were won, records broken. Bobcats achieved greatness. Fans were reminded of the strenuous competition and belief in a cause—victory—shared by track men, wrestlers, roundballers, and gridiron heroes. Yellowed press releases proclaimed, "Bobcats are the best! Yes!"

Administration

Growth achieved by combined efforts

Returning to coordinate Star Spencer activities during its first year as a senior high school were Dr. June Dawkins, principal, and Dr. Ted Perdue, vice principal.

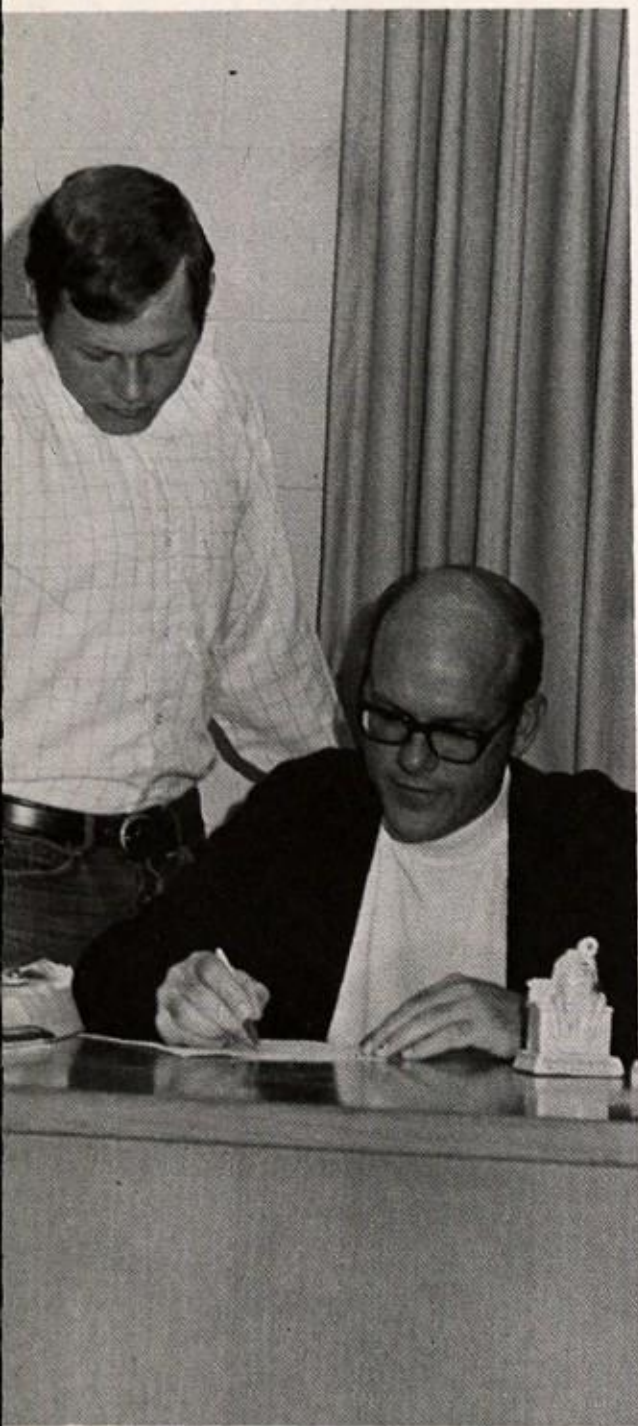

Undertaking the position of administrative assistant was Carl Twidwell. In the capacity of his new office, Mr. Twidwell helped toward maintaining discipline among the student body.

Members of the Board of Education and the counselors assumed special responsibilities in cooperation with the administration.

With the aid of their administrative qualities, a constant flurry of activities was established and directed at Star Spencer.

Faculty

Departments change heads

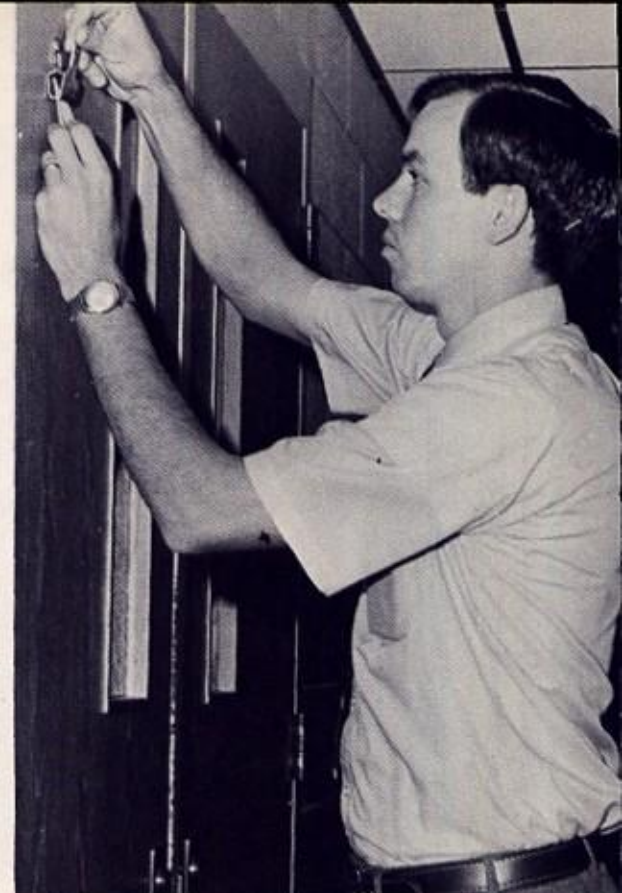

Under the watchful guidance of skilled instructors, Star-Spencer completed another year of successful student-teacher relation.

New faculty members took over the handling of Star-Spencers' two largest departments this past year. Supervising journalism classes, which included newspaper and yearbook, was Miss Patty Miller. Instructing the drama department for the first time was Mr. Ed Dowty.

Both Miss Miller and Mr. Dowty are graduates of Central State College.

Through funds provided by the National Science Foundation, Mr. John Hubbard, biology teacher, was able to work on his Master of Biological Sciences degree at the University of Oklahoma.

Assisting the faculty was Mrs. Florine Walker, who served as the school nurse for Star-Spencer students.

School depends on efficient secretaries.

Phones ring, a student receives an emergency message. Keeping a constant calm has been Mrs. Thyra Vernon, financial secretary, Mrs. Frances Duke, attendance secretary; Mrs. Vivian Reeser, principals' secretary; Mrs. Alberta Lunn, secretary; and librarians.

Duties ranged from stuffing mailboxes to scheduling daily announcements, checking roll in history classes and tallying absentee slips for secretaries.

Librarians catalogued books and sent materials to Rogers Middle School.

Cleanliness main objective

Pride in Star-Spencer's buildings and campus has been evoked through the diligent and constant efforts of custodians. Many hours were spent after closing, sweeping halls and preparing for upcoming sports events. Daily jobs for these men have included not only the upkeep of individual classrooms, but cleaning of surrounding campus grounds.

Cooks serving Star-Spencer this past year have continued to prepare well-balanced and nutritious lunches for the hundreds of students that eat at school.

Language Arts, Science, Math

Solid subjects pave future

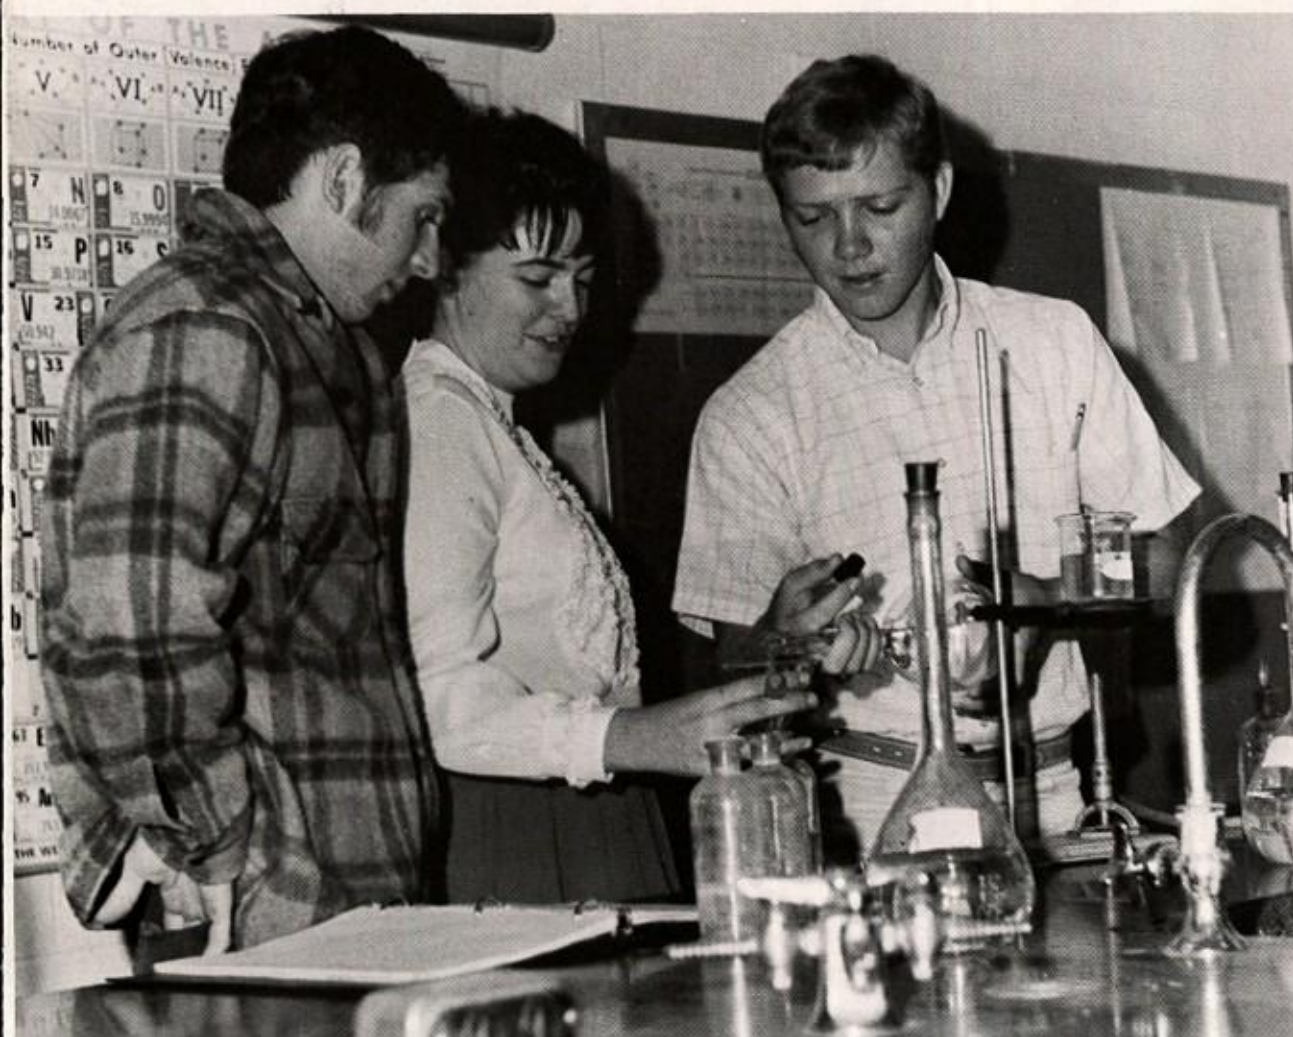

Language Arts, science, and math departments laid a foundation of skills needed for advancement in high school education.

"Physics is Phun!" became the credo of juniors and seniors enrolled in project physics. Labs enlivened classwork in chemistry and biology courses.

Communication was the by-word of the Language Arts department. English paved the way for work in journalism, creative writing, French, and Spanish electives. Two three-act plays were presented by the drama department this year.

Rounding out the math department were algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and advanced studies in math analysis classes.

Tunes echo through halls

Catchy rhythms and lyrics packed with meaning held a special intrigue for students interested in the vocal and instrumental classes composing Star-Spencer's music department.

Vocalists sang in Select Choir, Glee Club, Madrigal, or Boys' and Girls' Sextets.

Instrumental music was divided into two categories, band and orchestra. Stage Band and marching band were conducted by Mr. Joe Patton. Serious musicians studied principles of harmony and types of music in Music Theory class.

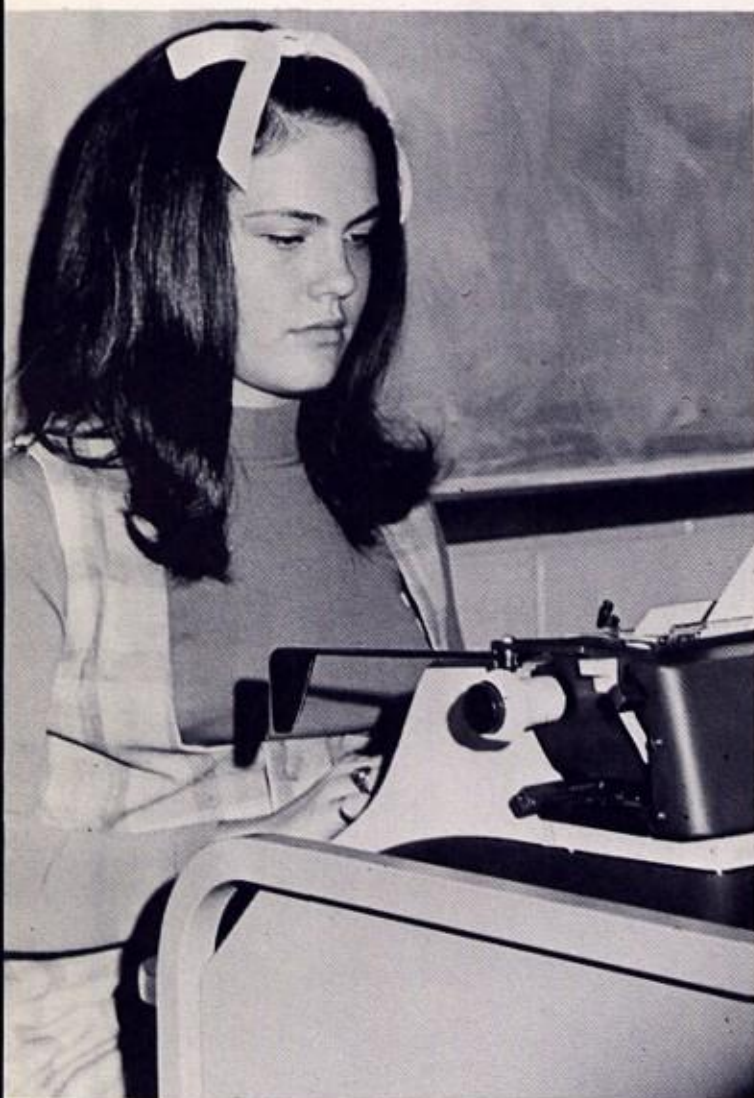

Color guards and majorettes set the pace for the band.

RIGHT: "All that work for nothing," says Ronnie Lair, soph., in history class as he receives his grade on his nine weeks test.

New electives spark interest

Various electives, perking up class schedules, were offered through five diverse departments.

Bachelors invaded the Home Economics Department this year taking Boys' homemaking. Girls completed studies in advanced Foods and Clothing, child guidance, and home decorating.

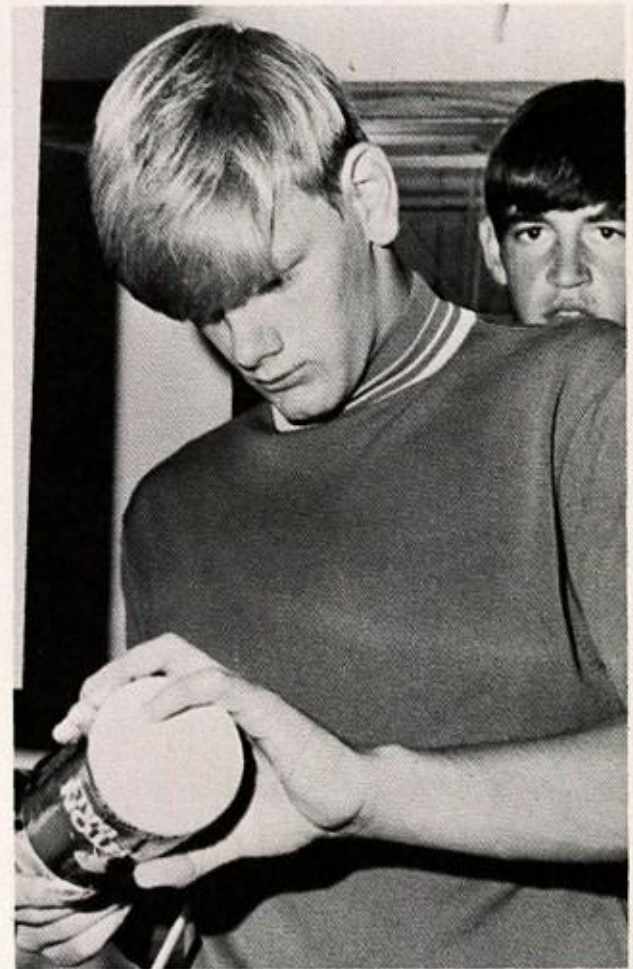

Art provided students with an outlet for constructive creativity, while Physical Education developed athletic skills.

Negro History took its place in the Social Studies Department along with Oklahoma History, U.S. History, and economics. Psychology and humanities classes studied aspects of man and the arts.

Courses covering skills ranging from Commercial Art to Diesel Mechanics were offered at the Vocational-Technical Education Center. Office Practice provided business students with on-the-job training in secretarial skills.

Auto Mechanics, drafting, electronics, woodshop, and metal shop were taught under Star-Spencer's Vocational Department.

Student Life

'70 sparks with enthusiasm

September breezes blew in an aura of excitement and the school year began. Strange faces became familiar as friendships began in halls, parking lots, and on athletic fields.

With the start of extracurricular activities came tense waiting before, and tearful congratulations after heated competition.

Special assemblies gave students a chance to show off their special talents and abilities, thus adding, quickly to growing school pride.

Habitual reaching for books, passes to the library, and names of teachers took the place of easy summer living.

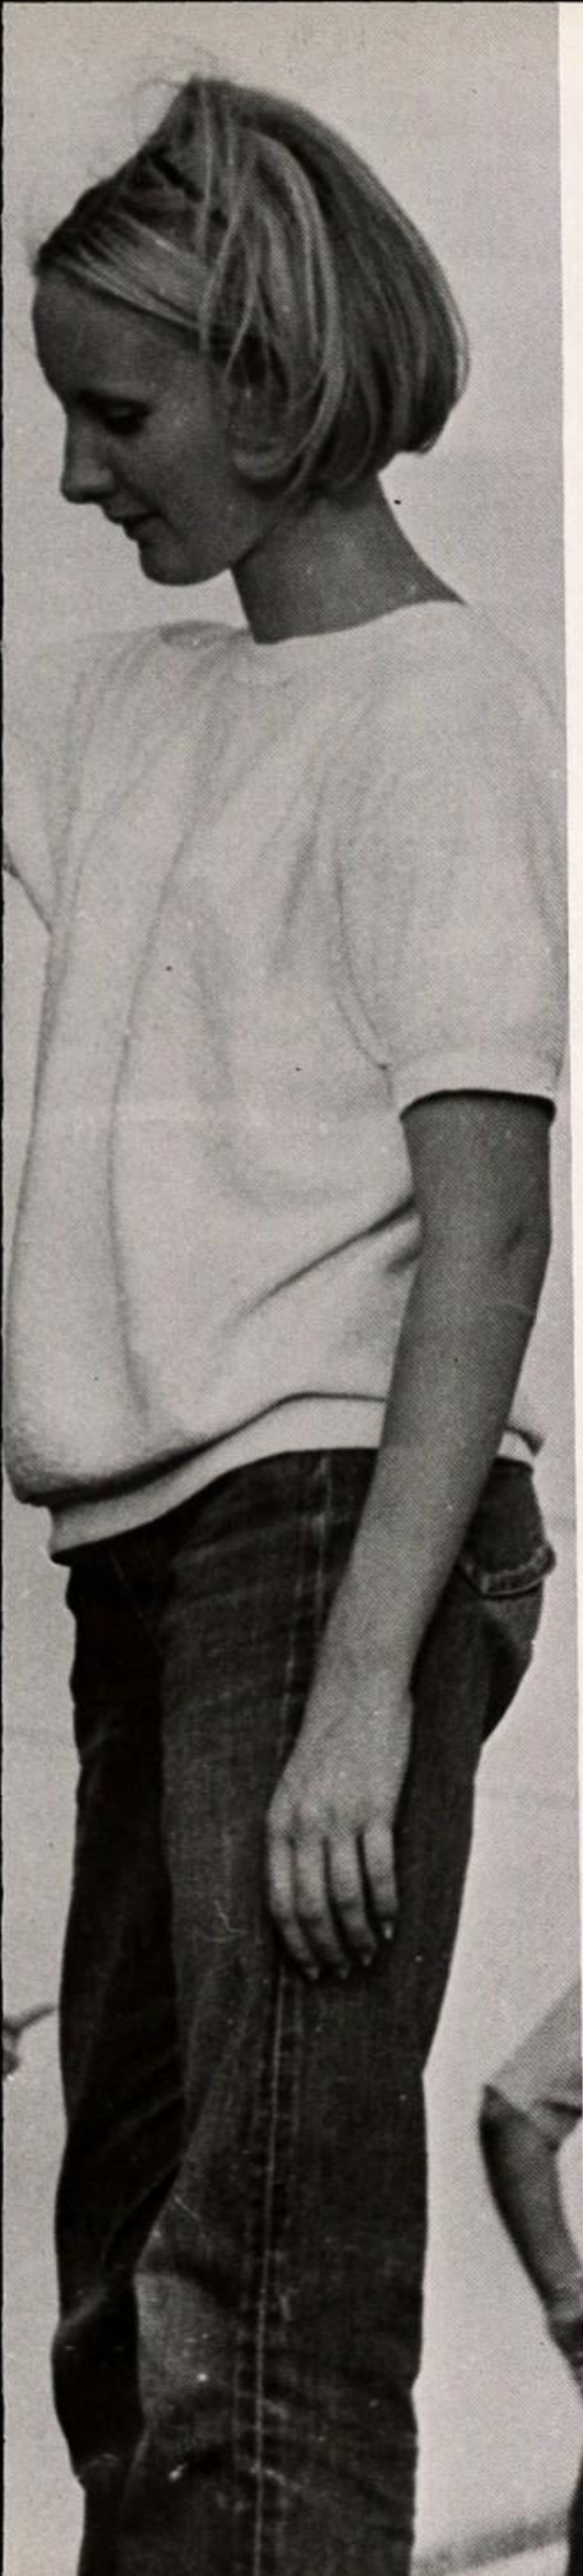

New seniors shouldered the responsibility of leading Star-Spencer's 1,197 students in the manner that satisfied previous upper-classes.

Fall began, and with it the new school year.

Three-thirty arrives and pandemonium strikes as students anxiously rush through gathering mobs to awaiting cars and buses as they begin their trek home.

'Halloween' theme unique

October 31 set the mood for the Halloween-inspired hi-jinks of Homecoming.

Balloon-carrying clowns snaked in and out among the wind-whipped floats. Pep Club marchers, booming bass drums and convertibles bearing the All-Sports court, moved slowly by hundreds of Bobcat boosters viewing the parade.

"Pulp the Patriots," junior class float, took first place carrying out the parade theme, "Halloween." Seniors of '71 netted their second first-place float in two years.

Coronation of the '69-'70 All-Sports Queen brought comic relief to alumni and students. Somehow, Halloween sorcery jinxed the Cats, who scored 22-36 in a clash with Putnam City West.

Even losing the game couldn't break blithe spirits. Halloween happy students danced to the "Purple Osium" at the Homecoming dance held in the gymnasium after the game.

Basketball, wrestling and two school plays bridged fall with winter activities.

By presenting "The Mouse That Didn't Believe in Santa" to children's hospitals, drama students mirrored Star-Spencer's Christmas spirit.

"Peace on earth—it's the Lord's thing!" won first place in Christmas door decorating contest for Mr. Tom Hardy's homeroom.

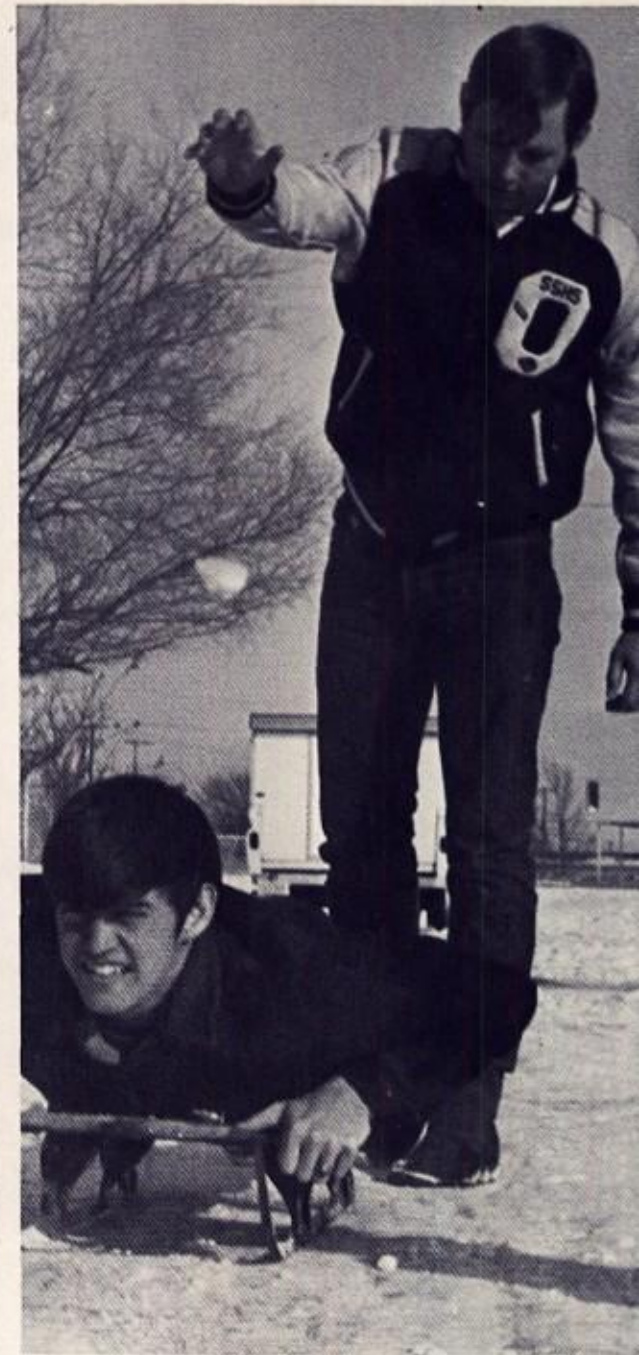

Faculty members and alumni joined the music department in presenting an assembly before Christmas vacation in the auditorium.

Winter blows life indoors

Wintertime winds blew cold this season, bringing student life indoors.

Student Council hosted intercity visitations day December 3.

Juniors battled January snow drifts to view the Mummers Theater production of "Spoon River Anthology."

Students turned out in force to support Star-Spencer in its invitational basketball tournament held January 22-24 in the gymnasium.

Panel stirs S-S emotions

Clenched fists and closed minds opened to understanding during Aquarius' dawn.

Dissenters engaged in verbal banter with four panel members of a Black Heritage Week symposium, held Feb. 11. Panelists, teachers and students assembled in the library hourly, discussing human relations topics relevant to the student body.

Civic Center Music Hall may never be the same after Pep Club usherettes "rocked out" over vocalist Oliver during his Feb. 13 concert.

Lacy valentines and chocolate hearts still marked Valentine's Day. Couples had one last fling before the administration banned "public displays of affection" during school hours in the hallways and classrooms.

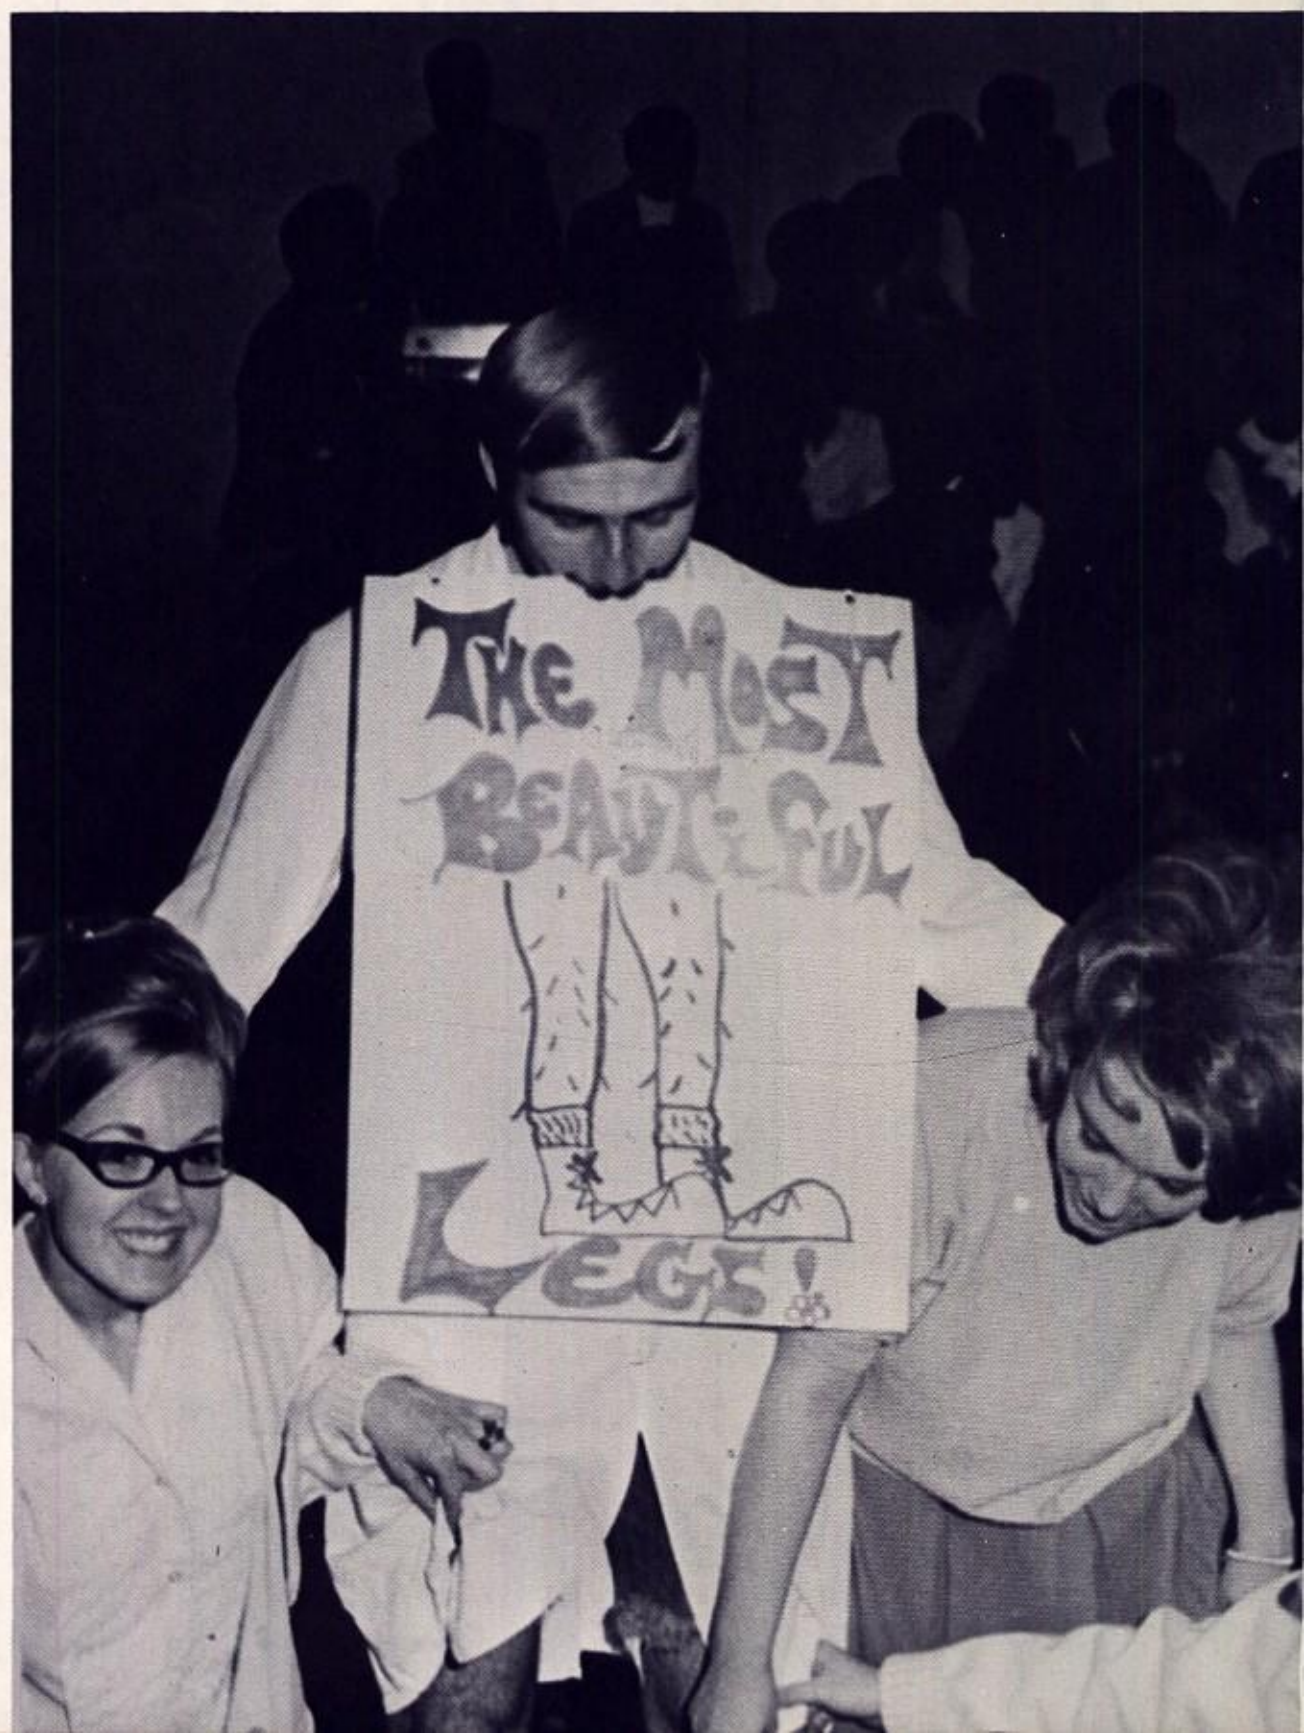

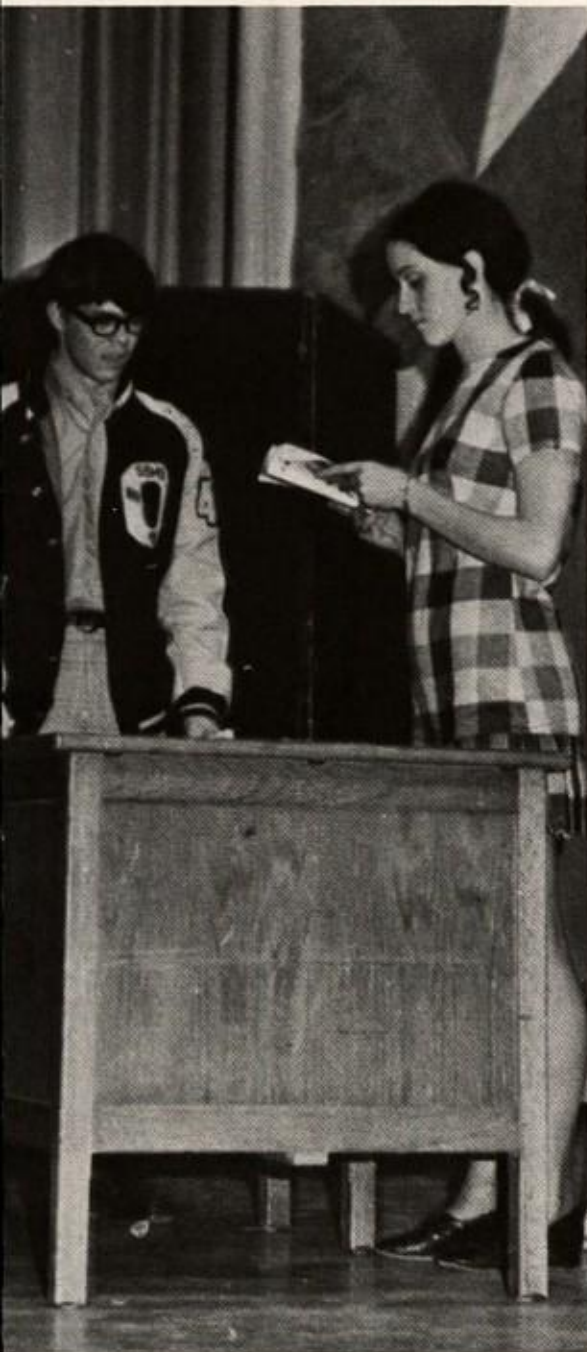

Discussing racial problems as part of Black Heritage Week are guest panelists Mr. James Raglin, senior counselor, Mrs. Freddie Cudjo, Mrs.

Pat Nicholson, Mr. Santoi Dubose and Mr. Bill Johnson. Students participated in the seminar with a question and answer session.

Student Life

Pep Club initiation comical

Although their projects differed in purposes, S-SHS's active individuals had little trouble finding the necessary effort to make the mid-winter events successful.

Student Council girls unsuccessfully met the S-SHS men faculty in a basketball game that gained both laughter and money for the council officer's summer workshop.

New Pep Club members were again properly shamed by the club's annual initiation as they performed the strange routines and dressed in the prescribed odd garb. Initiation days were given the titles "Snoopy" and "Rocket Day."

"Up the Down Staircase" ran into many an hour of painstaking practice as its Thespian cast and crew perfected their various roles for the play's opening in March.

Spring brings gentle spirits

Oklahoma's March winds just may have been 1,200 sighs of relief as winter weather left the state.

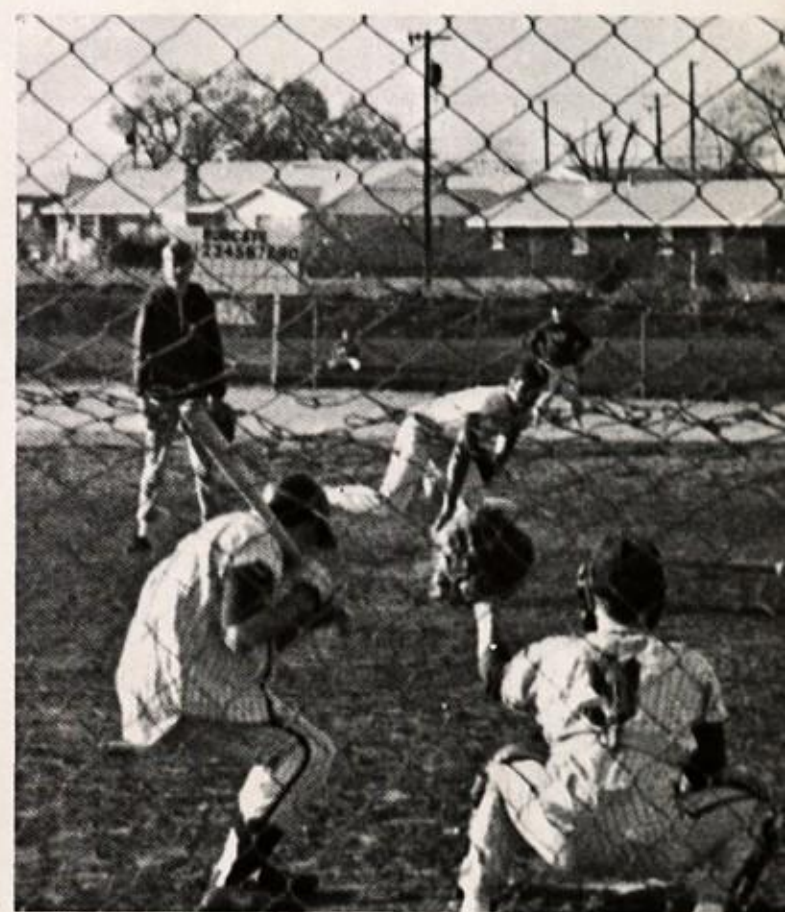

Spring was picnic time, baseball time, and go-fly-a-kite time. Gentle spirits migrated to Lincoln Park, soaking up sun in helter-skelter tennis matches, or boosting Bobcats in another try for State Baseball championship.

Girls traded winter's slacks for a try at earning cheerleading uniforms.

Students aid stricken family

Balloon-selling clowns marching for the first time in the Homecoming parade and an all-school "Howdy" dance topped Student Council's fund-raising projects this year.

Council-sponsored activities began with a teacher appreciation tea. Student Council rushed to the aid of victims of a house fire this December sponsoring a food drive.

Students stepped into voting booths last April to elect '69-70 council officers. Voting machines, a Star-Spencer first, tallied candidates' scores. Newly proposed convention-type parties headlined the '70 election.

Clubs cultivate good will

Communication in its most varied forms was the topic of Human Relations, French and Spanish clubs.

Human Relations provided a forum for discussion of Star-Spencer's problems among members, reelected from home rooms.

Mardi Gras plans a midwinter cake walk and a Christmas party spiced French Club activities this year. Spanish Club coronated club royalty.

First-year teacher Mrs. Paula Childress sponsored Spanish Club's initiation at El Charrito Restaurant.

Young engineers form club

Four clubs served the scientific and technically minded students throughout the 1969-70 school year.

Offering a new and separate program for those with a special interest in engineering was the nationally sponsored Junior Engineering Technical Society. The JETS sponsored an engineering aptitude test and a geology field trip in the fall.

Science Club, no longer affiliated with the FSA, rewrote their constitution and participated in a lecture and field trip program in addition to constructing a prize-winning Homecoming float.

Providing organizations for those being trained in technical skills was VICA and the S-SHS Electronics Club.

Marching Band, Majorettes

Cold wind chills marchers

Crisp morning air often met band members as they rehearsed the halftime marches used during Star Spencer's football season. Utilizing their first hour class, bandsmen poured over newly introduced arrangements. Mid-term graduate from Central State College, Mr. Allan Butler replaced Mr. Joe Patton second semester as band director.

Star Spencer's drum major and drum majorette directed the band onto the field in pre-game and halftime shows as well as in the Midwest City Veterans' Day Parade to the tunes of "King Size" and the "Swing March."

Club skyrockets enthusiasm

"Blue, White! Let's fight!" chanted 165 pep club members in unison at assemblies and ball games.

New uniforms, including slacks, marked pep club members as they marched on field before games, as well as ushering at city functions.

Weeks of preparation were spent in planning for one of the social events of the season, Pep Club's Christmas

Ball. Crepe paper turned the cafeteria into a fairy-tale setting for the dance.

Drill instructions enabled girls to march in the homecoming parade and in the Midwest City Veterans Day parade.

Coupled with pep assemblies, spirit marches winding throughout Star-Spencer halls boosted morale before games.

Staff accepts challenges

Under the direction of first-year teacher, Miss Patty Miller, the yearbook staff completed the twelfth volume of the Bobcat.

Distinguishing this year's volume was copy set in a new type style.

In order to meet regular deadlines, editors frequently remained after school, giving a full and combined effort to the Bobcat. The staffs' exuberance exemplified the spirit of Star Spencer.

O' Club

Club grows with greater participation

Boys' O' Club, composed of 5 sophomores, junior, and senior letter men, sprang into action with the beginning of football season.

Teamwork, dabbed with spirited individual efforts, paid off as the club float, "Bury the Patriots," placed fourth in the Homecoming parade. The athletes pocketed five dollars with the Halloween float.

Membership in the club was increased by 20 over last year's total of 39. Each lettered in a varsity sport played in accordance with conference rules.

One of six competitive sports in which boys could letter was football.

Gridiron preparation began with daily summer practice sessions. Bobcats worked at perfecting vital maneuvers, during August.

Bobcat gridders tie conference foes

After losing to Putnam City and Classen in the opening games, the Bobcats came back to demolish the Carl Albert Titans 42-8, before tying conference foes McGuinness and Northeast.

By defeating the Moore Lions in the last game of the season, the Bobcats ended their third straight winning year.

Although the Bobcats were 4-3-2 for the year, they were rated eighth in the state in the Class AA final Ratings. Severe injuries cost the Bobcats as they lost several starters for the season. But, with determination, along with great depth in the backfield, the Bobcats managed to retain their number eight rankings.

Highlighting the season was the Bobcat victory over the El Reno Indians. The speedy 'Cats' overwhelmed the previously fifth-ranked Indians with great defensive plays.

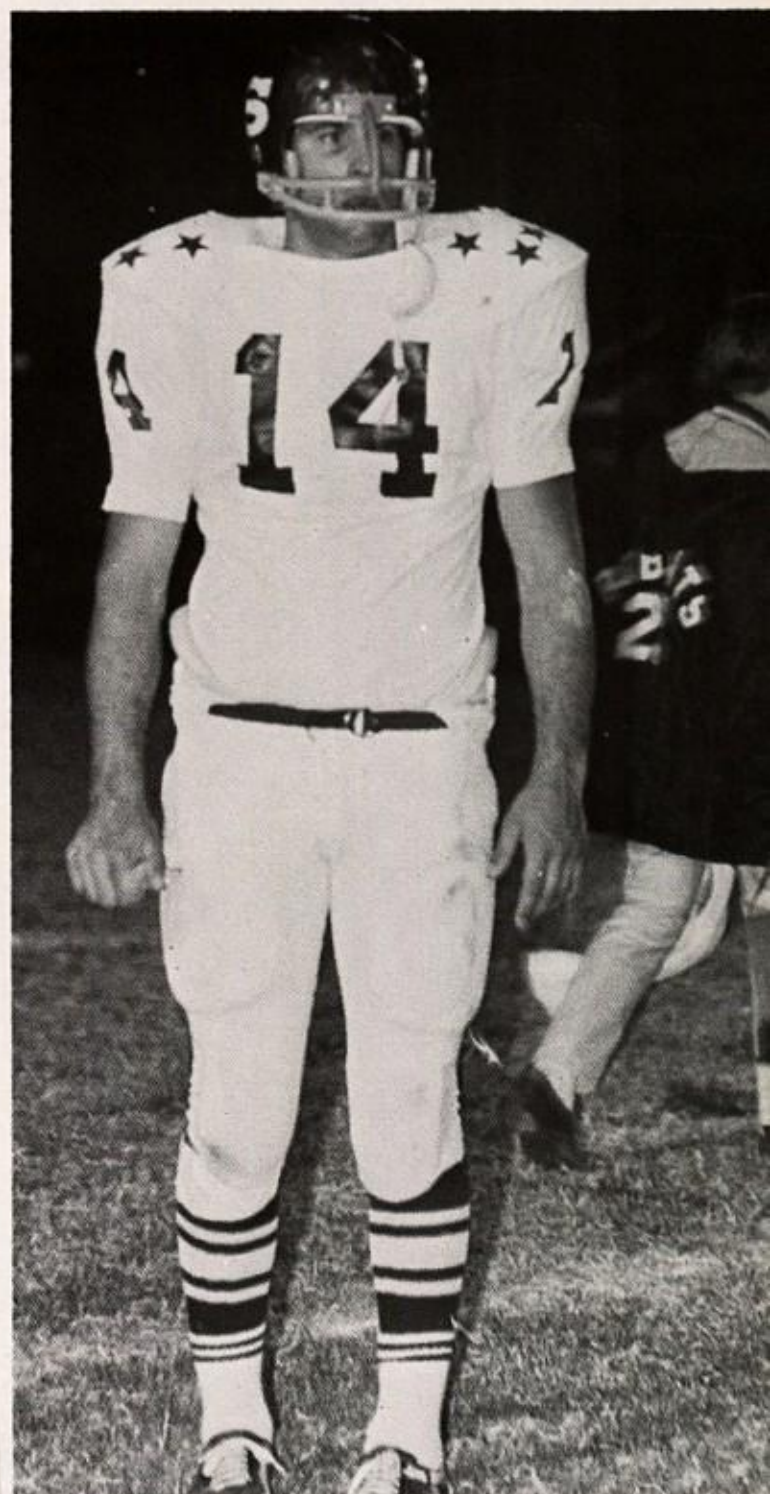

Dwight Smith, 11, is stacked up after a long gain, while Rick Potts, 75, comes up to block.

Bobcats defeated the Titans 42-8, re-enacting last year's romp over the Titans by the Bobcats.

Junior fullback Joe Lind is stopped by Northeast defenders after a first down. Bobcats were tied 0-0 as Bobcats Terry Helms, 64, Rick Potts, 75, and Rob Waller, 7, come up to assist in blocking.

Senior linebacker Ivo Ishmael awaits the outcome of the game with El Reno, which the Bobcats won 24-2 in the non-conference battle.

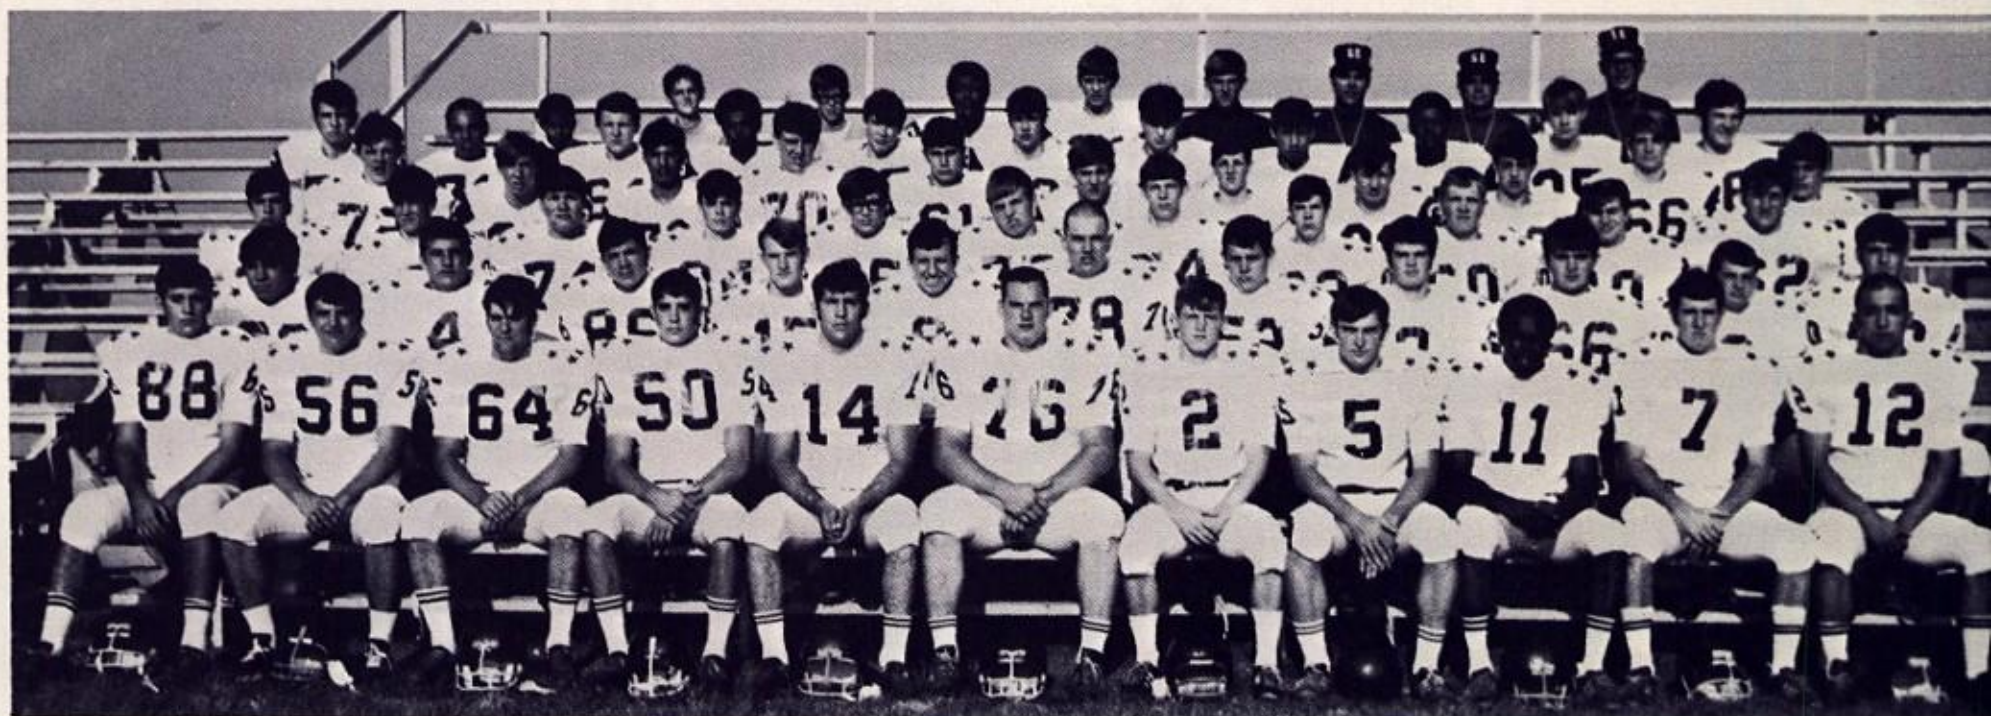

Senior halfback Dwight Smith, 11, is tackled during the Bobcats' tie with conference foe.

Tailback Robert Waller, dives through a hole in the line of scrimmage for a touchdown against the Putnam City West Patriots. Dave Twidwell 5, looks on. The Bobcats dropped the game 36-22.

Cats climb to best season

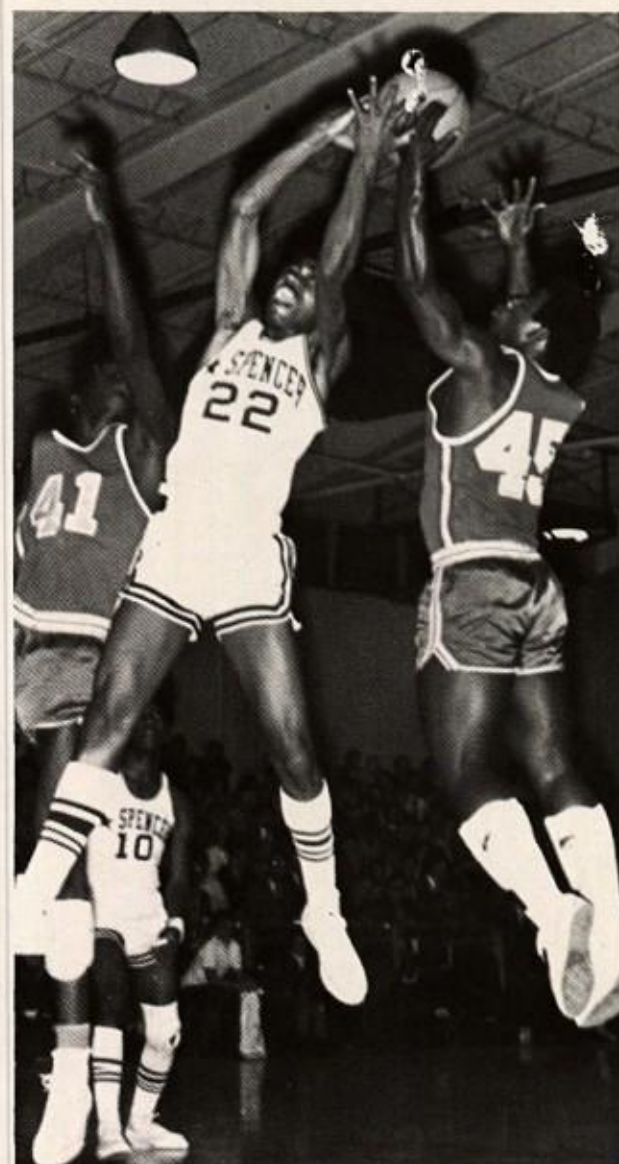

The 'Cats' average winning margin in the conference race, winning four games, one against each team; Classen, McGuinness, Putnam City West, and Northeast, and losing one against each team.

grew to twenty points per game.

Junior Dennis Milton led the Bobcats in scoring with a twenty-point average, and three times this season has scored over thirty points.

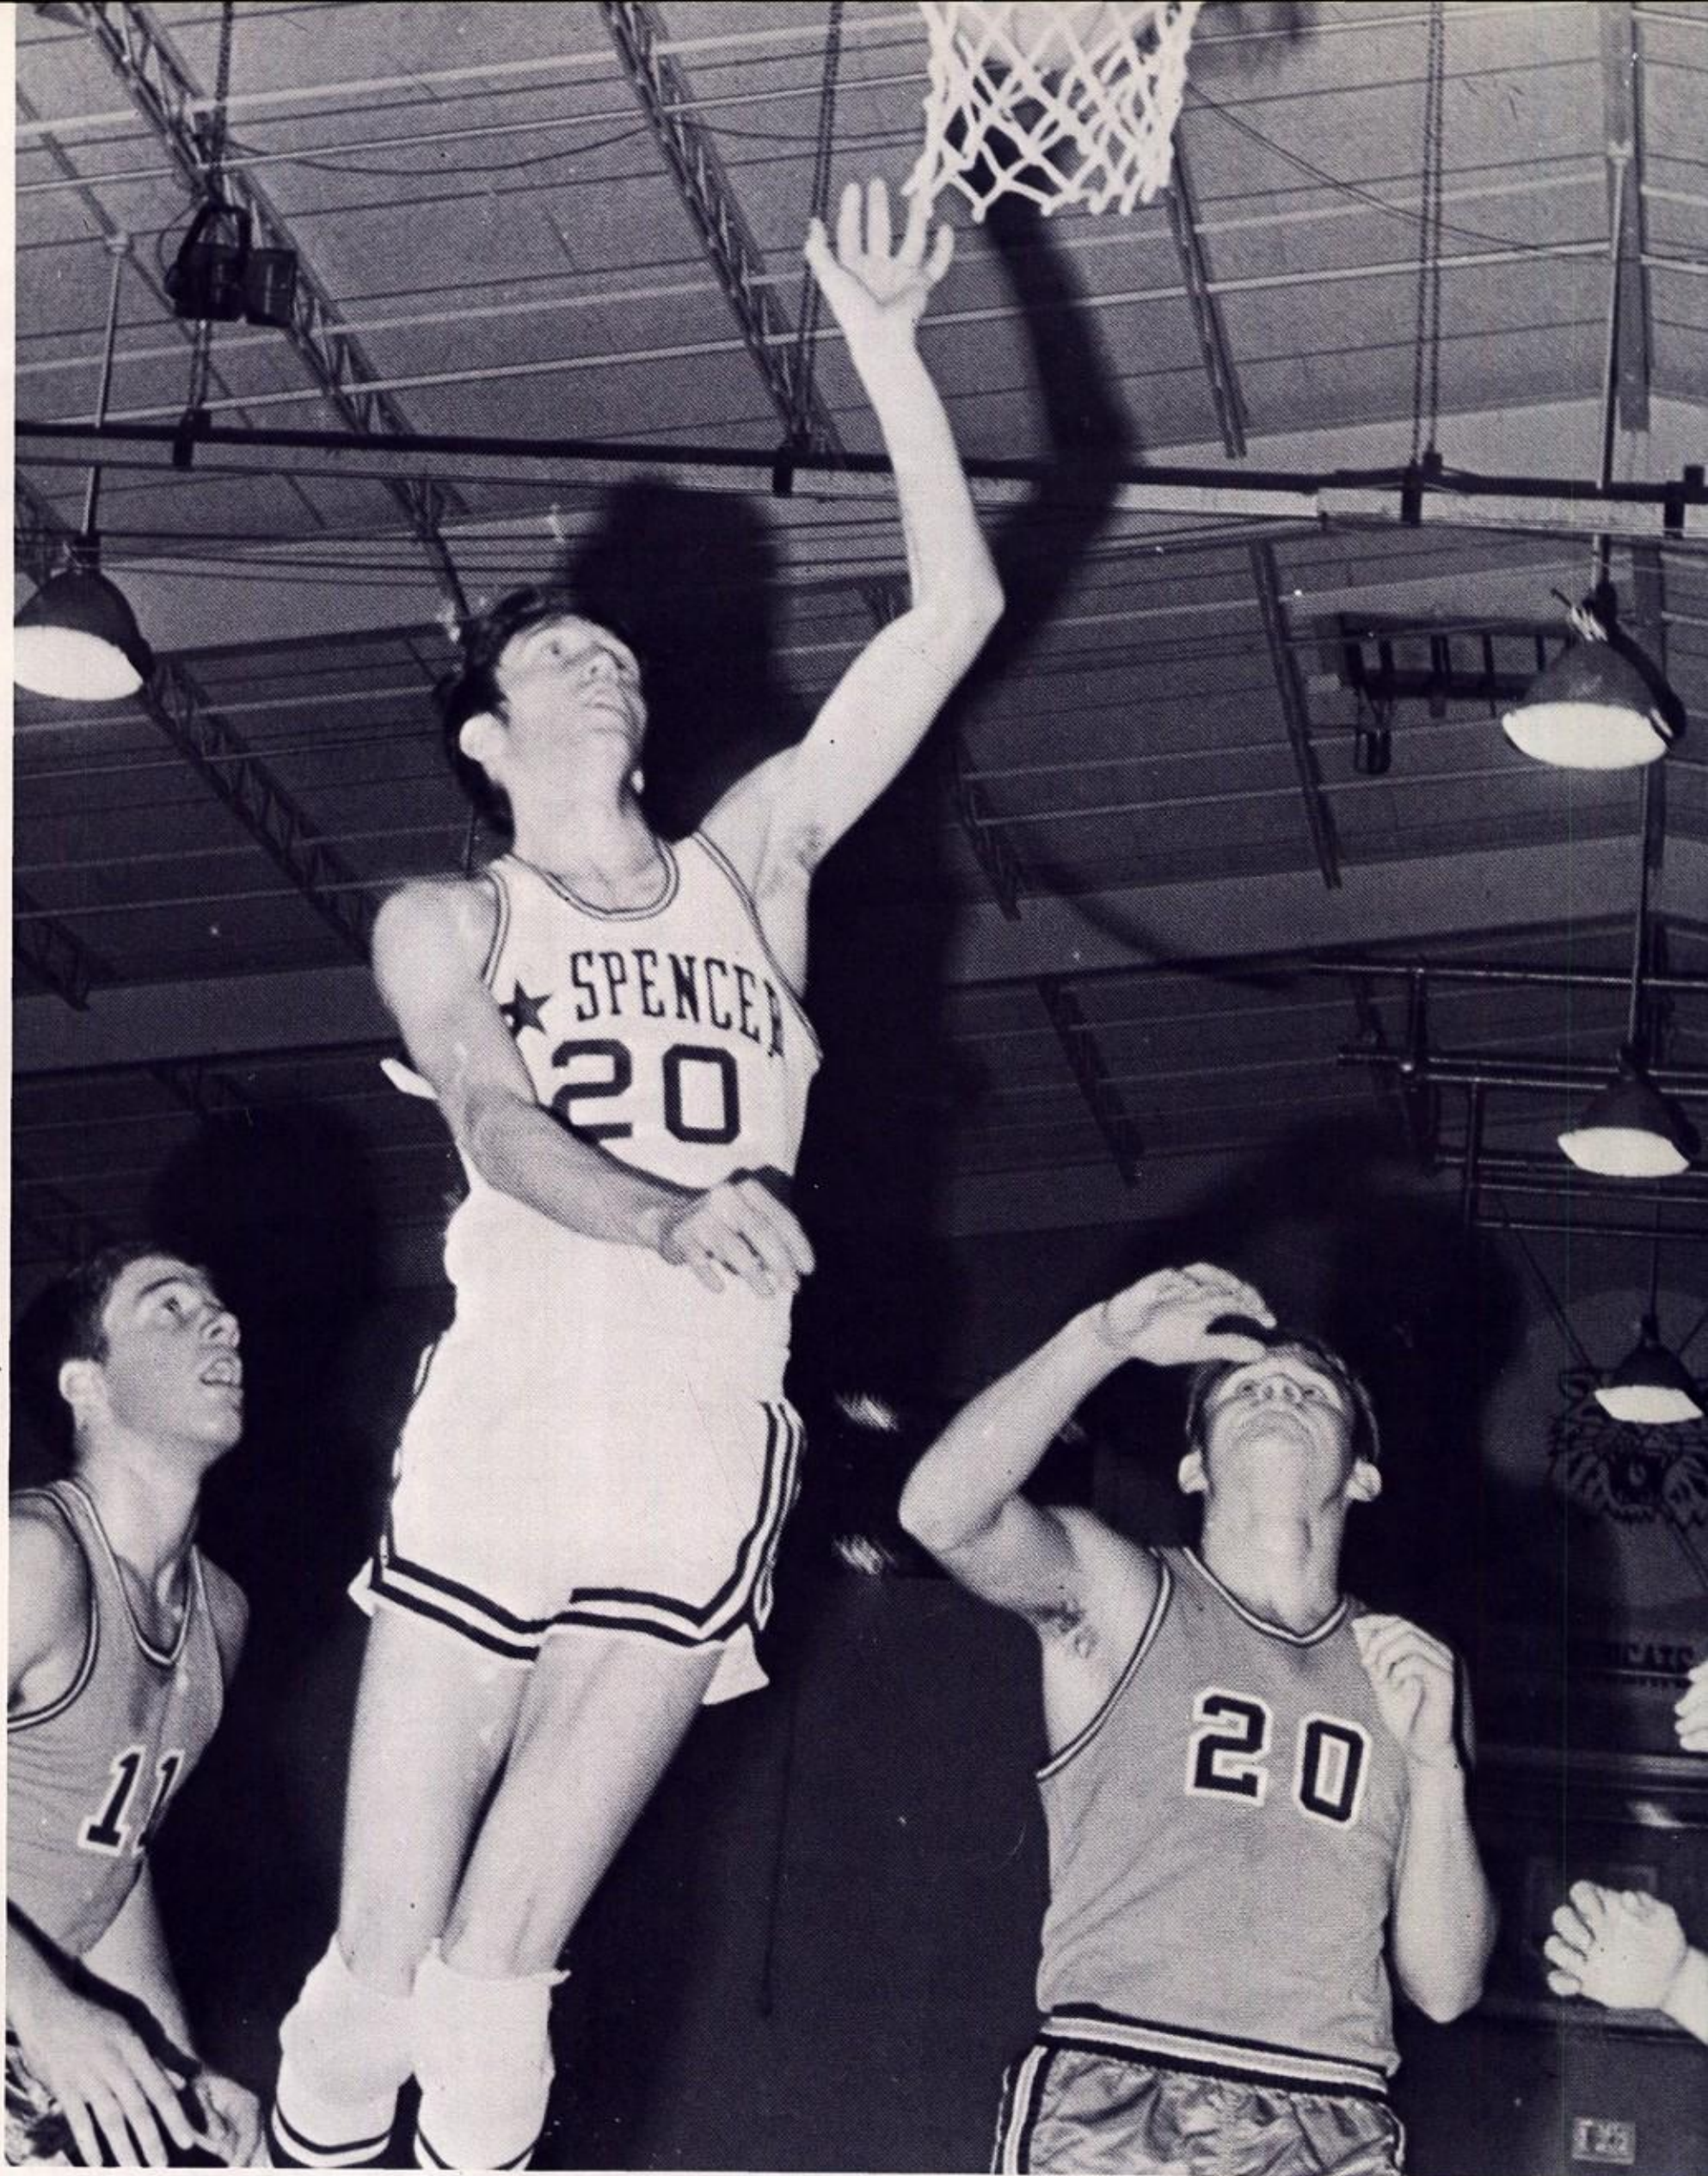

The Bobcats ended their season with victories over St. Mary's and El Reno.

Cagers wrap-up season with 17-5 record

Losing only three players due to graduation, the Bobcats rolled to their best season ever, ending the regular season with a 17-5 won-lost record, and a sixth-place rating in Class AAA.

The Bobcats won the Crooked Oak Invitational Tournament with an impressive win over Class 4-A power Southeast in the finals. Juniors Dennis Milton and George Neff were named to the All-tournament team.

The rival Classen Comets squeaked by the 'Cats in the finals of the S-SHS tourney, as both Milton and Neff were again selected to the All-Tourney team, as was senior guard Larry Gaines. The Bobcats scored an average of 80 points a game in the tourney.

Wrestling

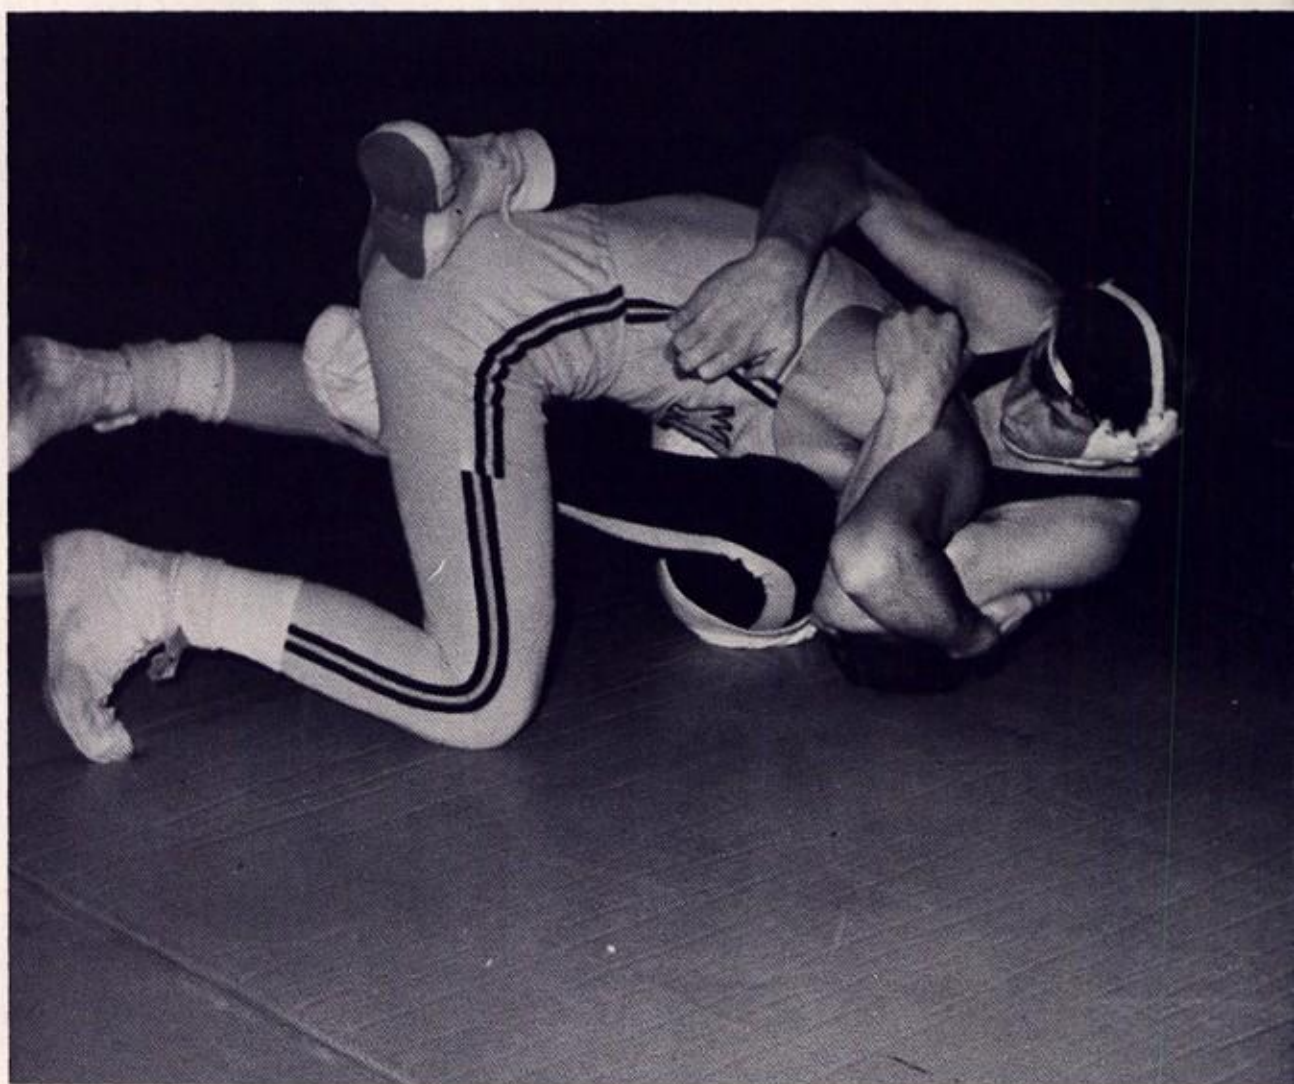

Grapplers suffer losing season; 2-9 mark

Despite suffering through the worst season in several years, the Bobcats had five highly rated grapplers, all of whom placed in the State Regionals at Putnam City West, and thus, were allowed to wrestle in the State Tournament.

Robert Holmes, sr., Robert Cheatwood, sr., Randy Goodman, jr., Will Hardin, sr., and Tim McGhee, sr., were the bright spots in the otherwise dismal season.

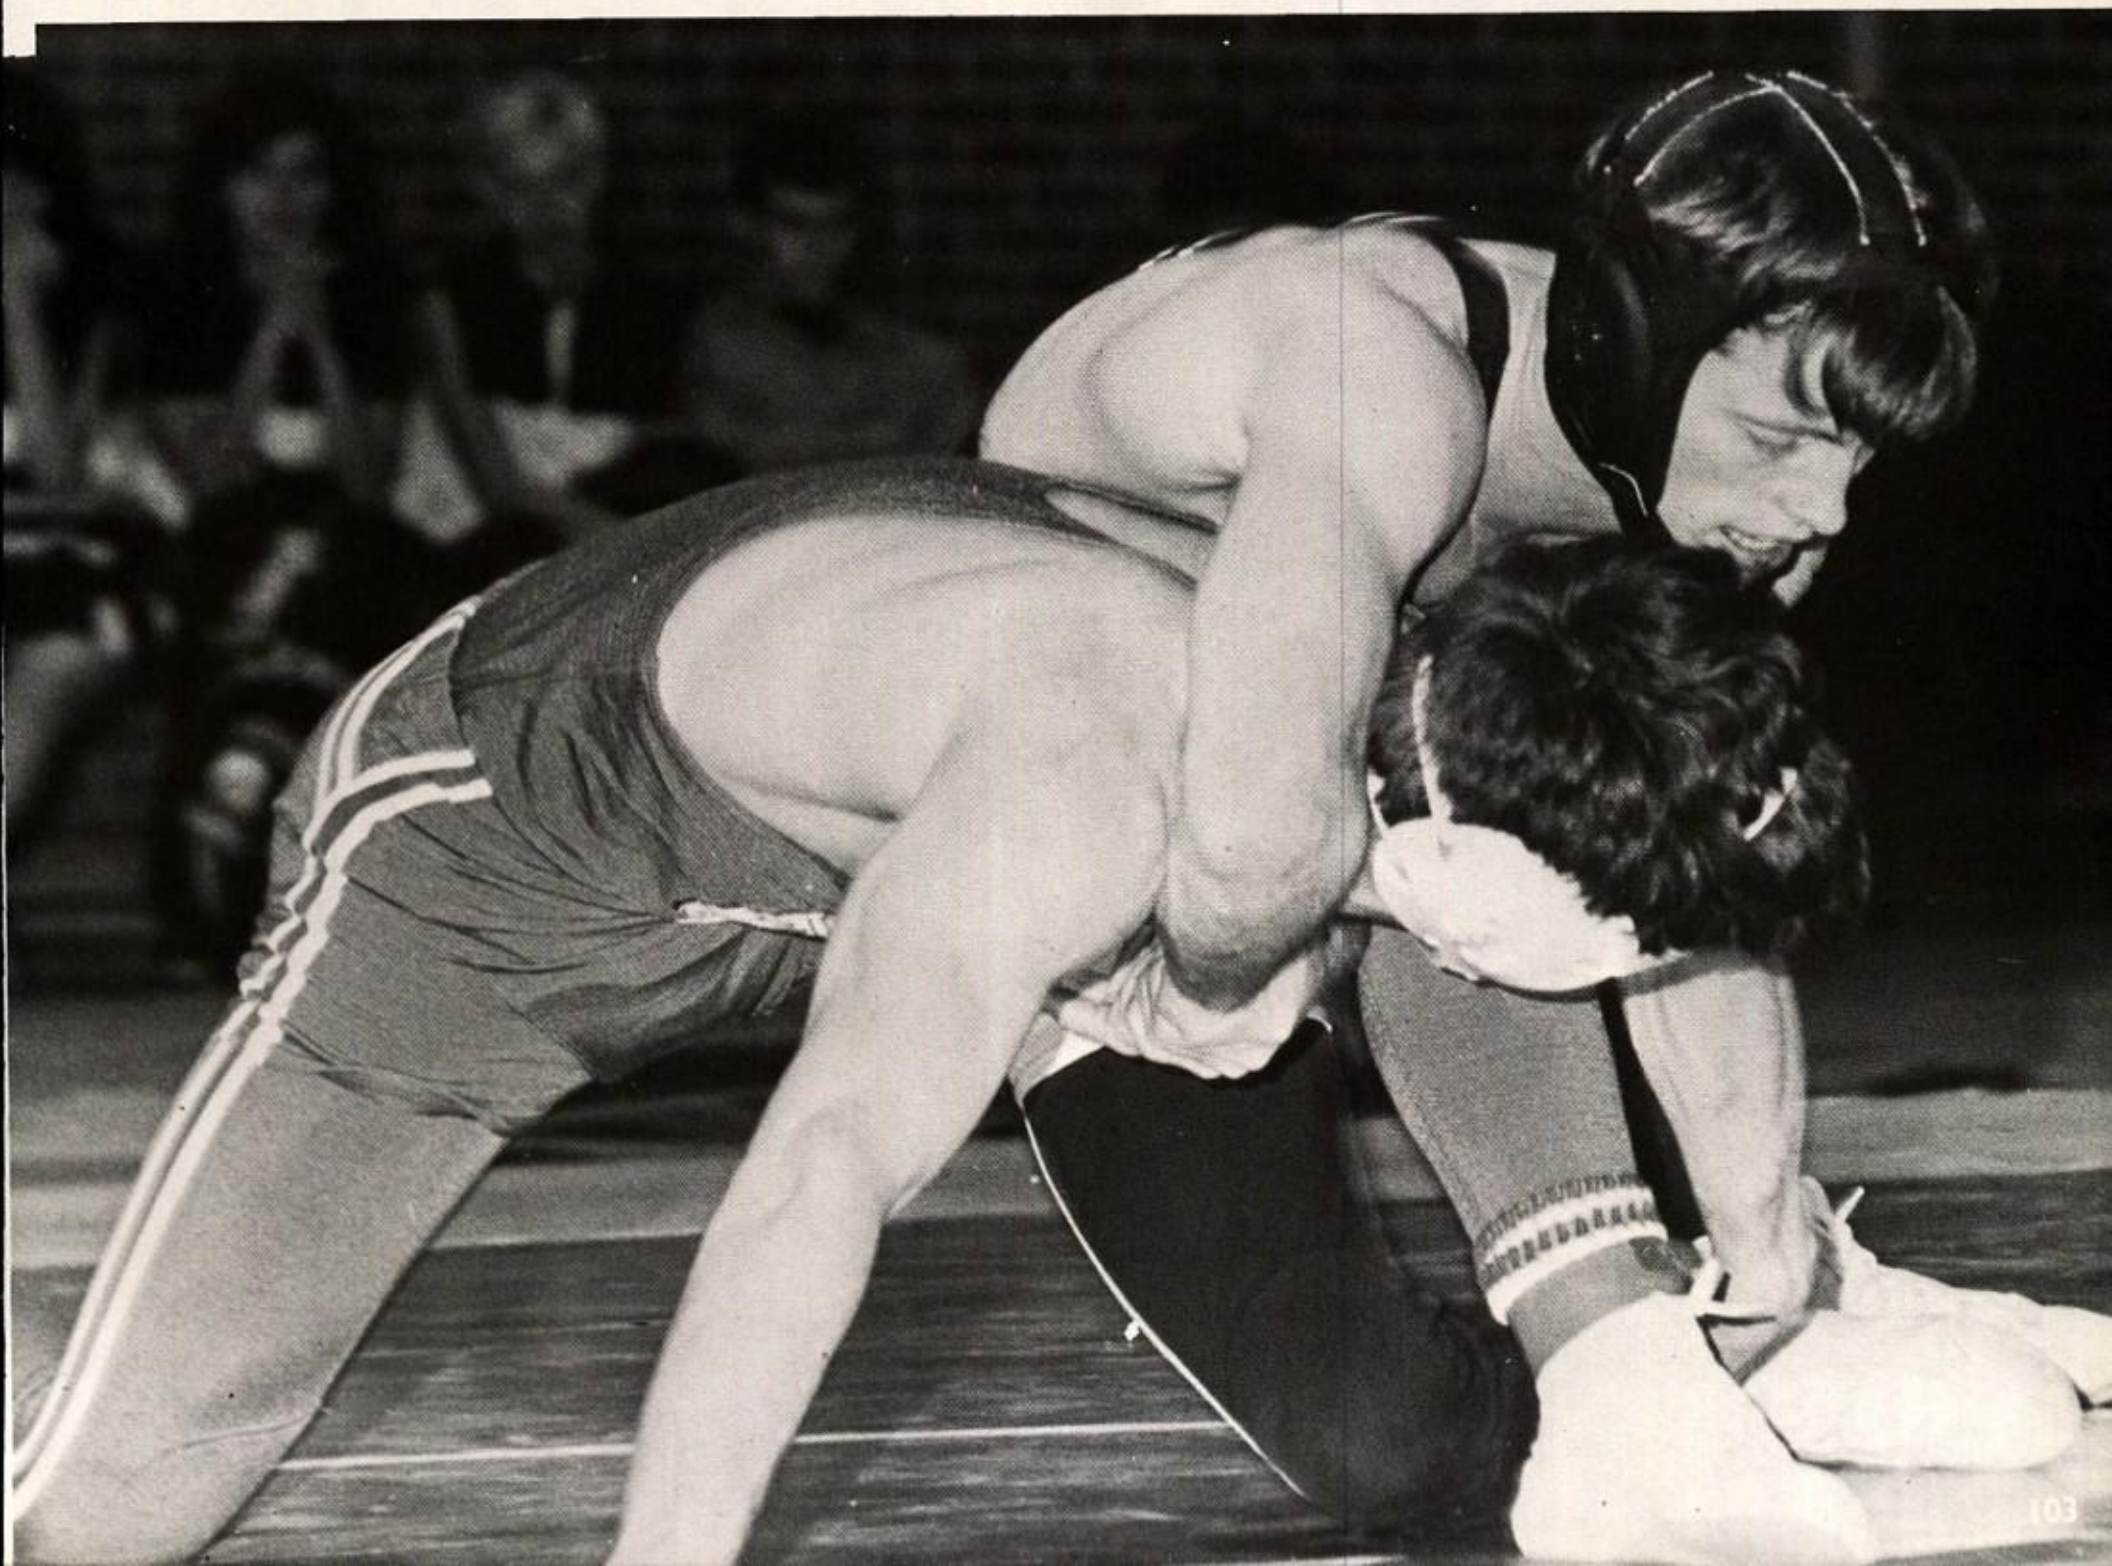

Danny Kelly, former Star-Spencer and Oklahoma University grappler, completed his first year as Bobcat wrestling coach.

Championship hope boosted as six return

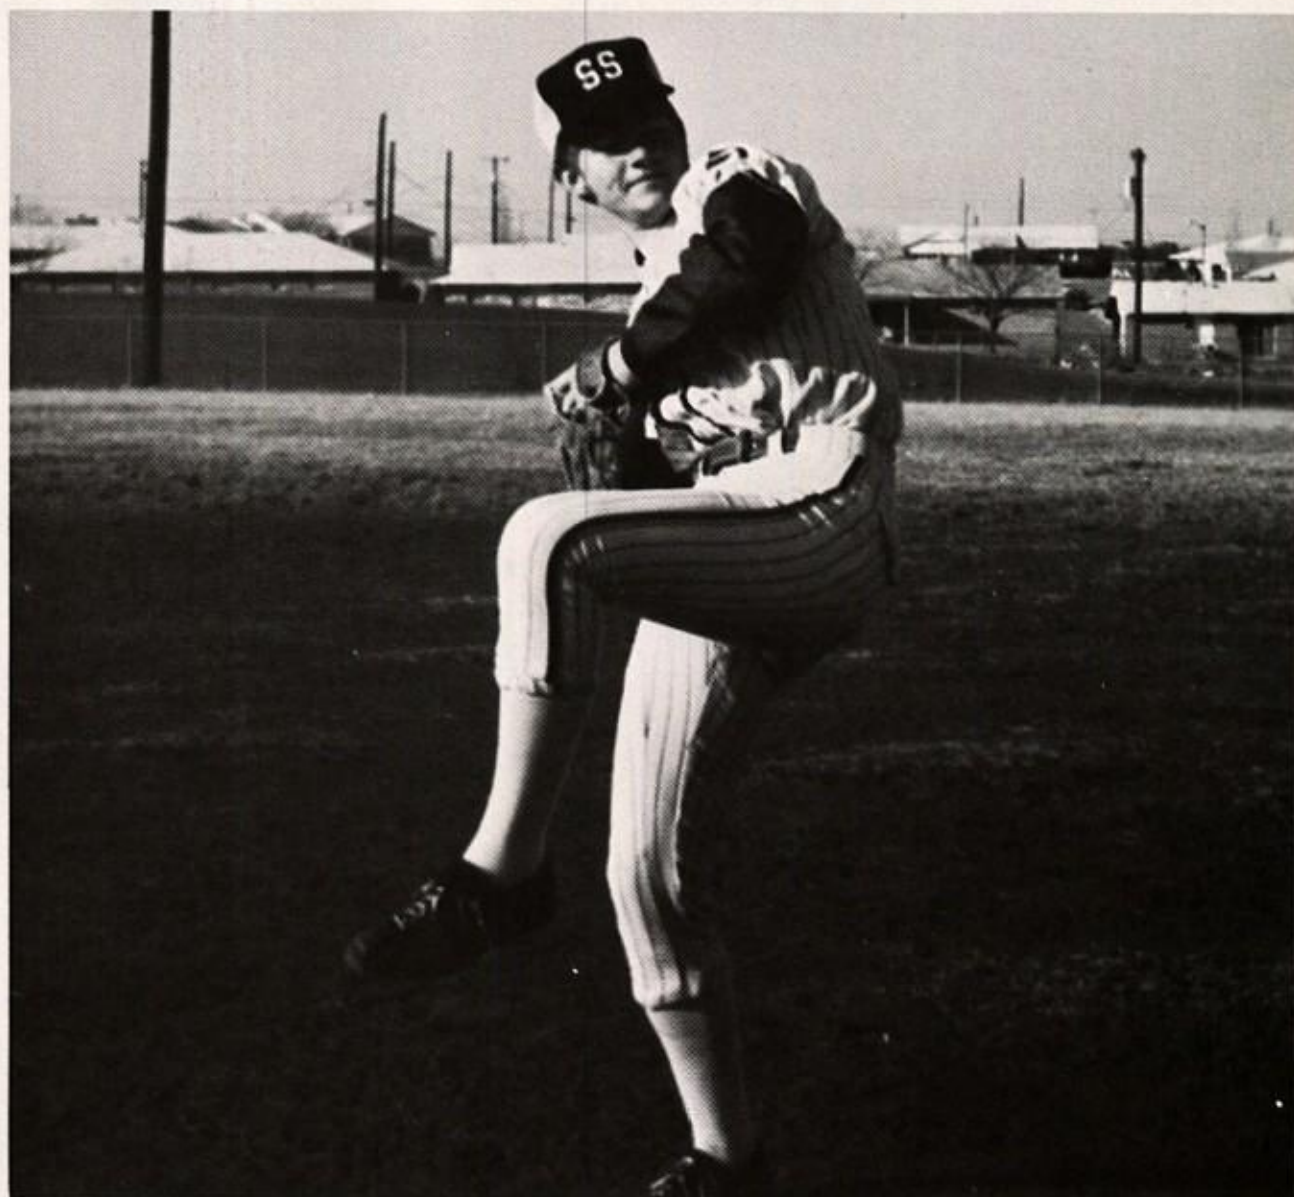

With six returning starters from the 1969 Class AA State Runner-up team, the Bobcats, under the leadership of Coach Delmer Hardesty, hoped to renew their championship status of 1968.

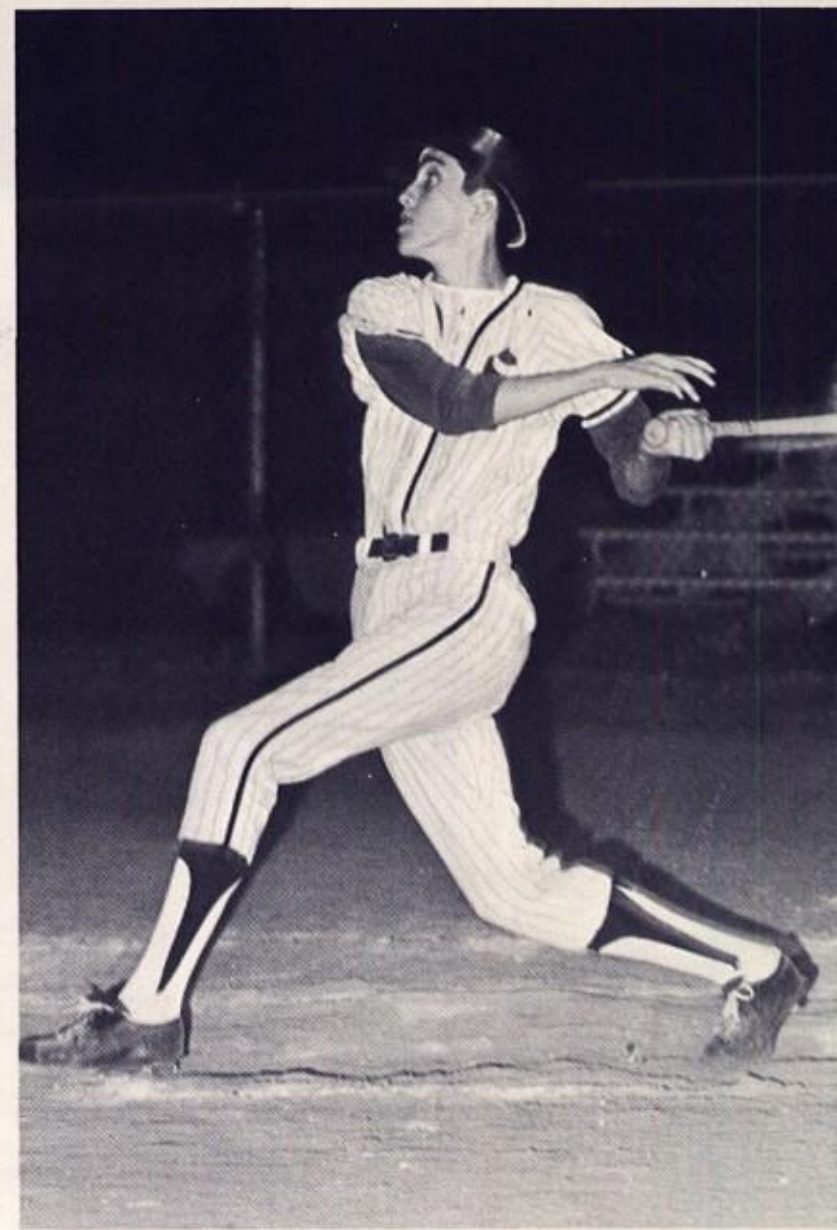

Returning seniors from last year's team are Randy Hey, Larry Gianfillipo, Robert Waller, and Mike Goff. Joe Pribble and Monty Skaggs are the lone returning juniors.

Coach Hardesty replaced Alan Axey, named as basketball coach at Tulsa Kelly.

The Bobcats participated in four tournaments; the Midwest City and Edmond invitationals, and the Regional and State tourneys.

Three of the four starters on the 1969 Bobcat golf team returned this season to boost hopes of a winning season.

Senior Will Hardin and Junior Randy Goodman return to form half of the 1970 Bobcat golf team.

Senior Robert Holmes is expected to fill the third spot, and several others are trying for the fourth position. Daily practice sessions begin in early spring, and last through the season.

Cross-Country, Track

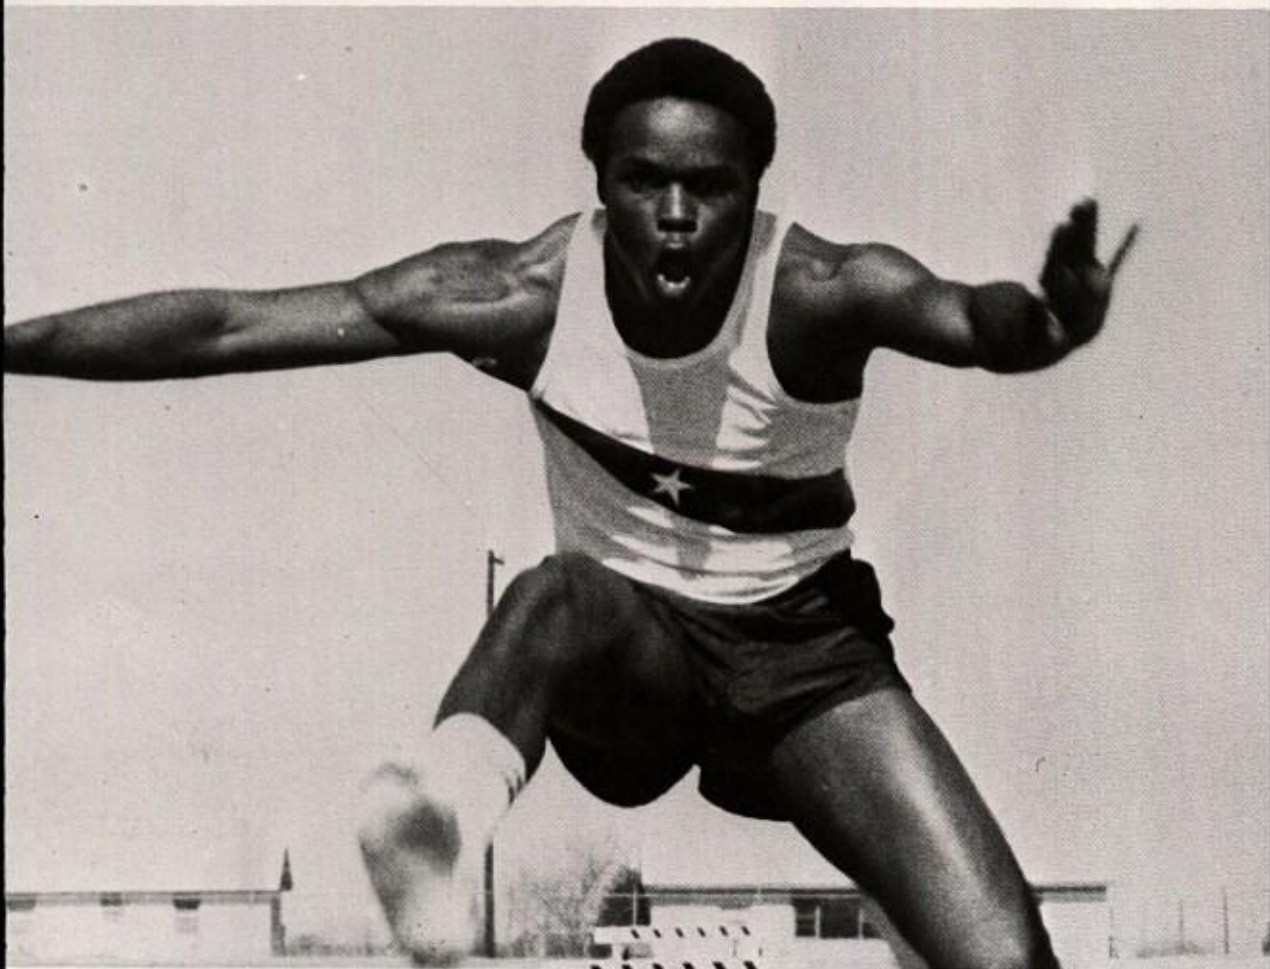

'Cats grab second in state

The Bobcat Cross-Country team, under the leadership of Mark Kelly and David Linden, won runner-up honors in the Class AA State meet in Tulsa.

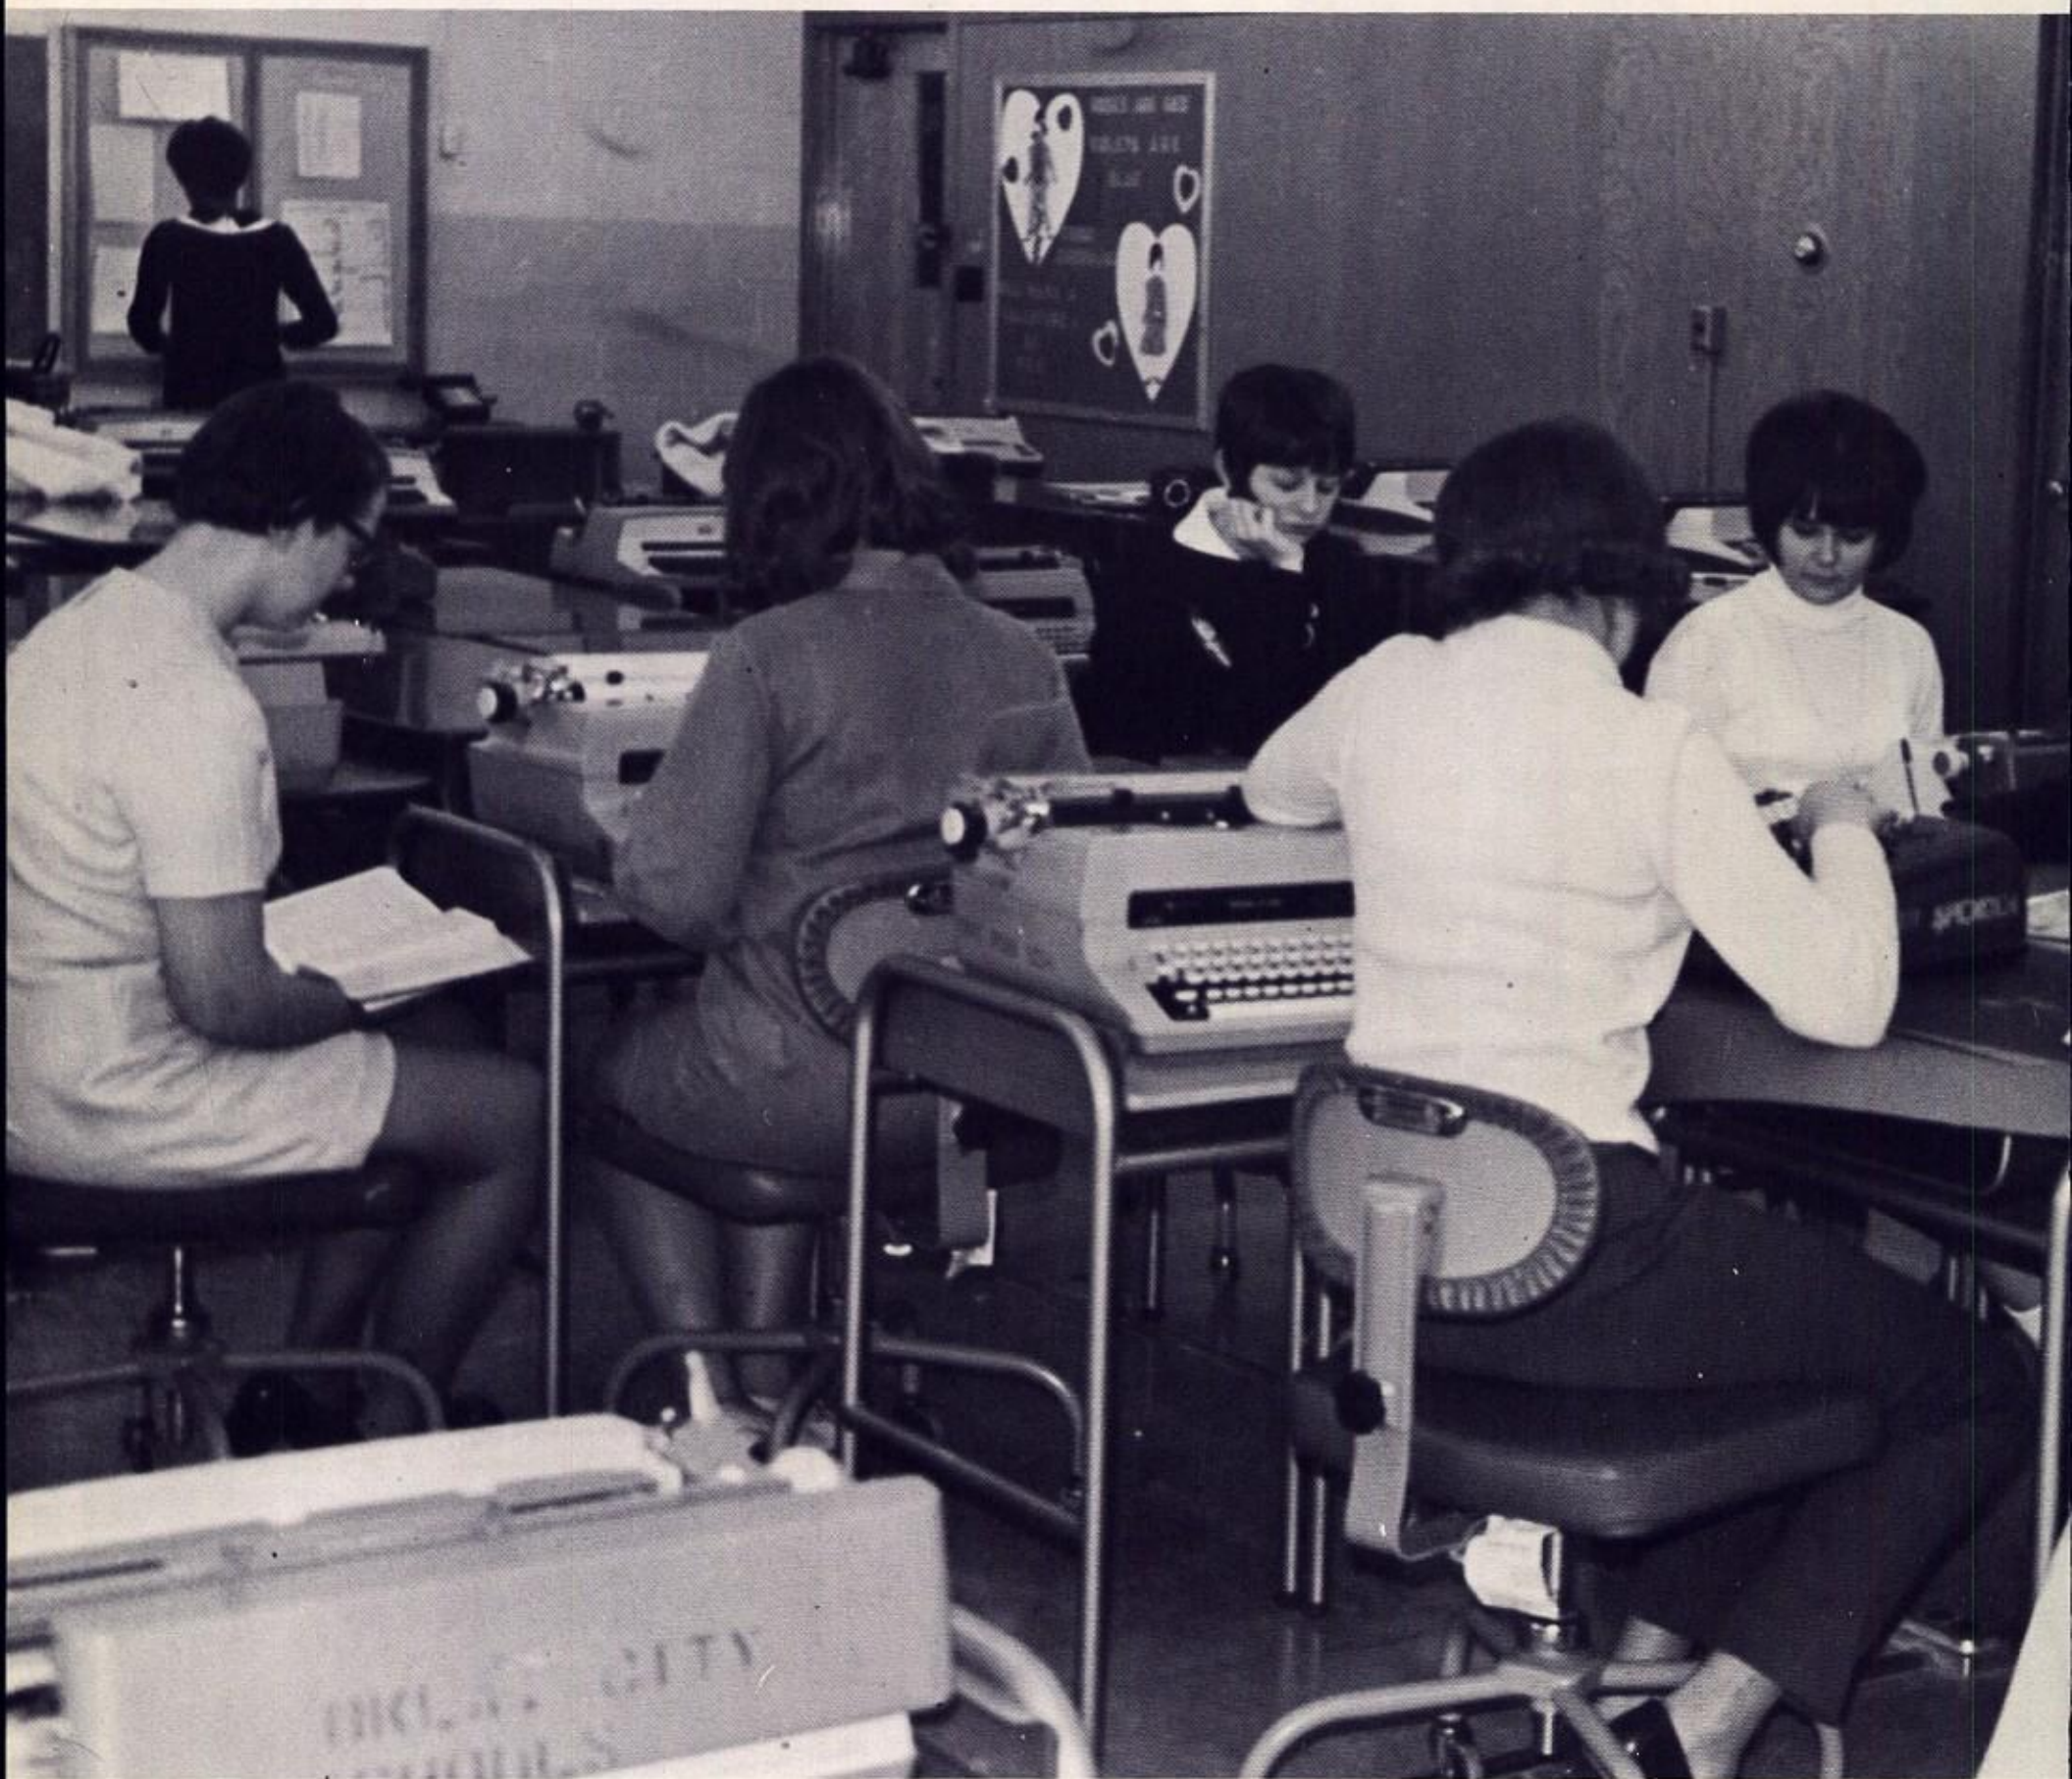

Kelly received great support from his Bobcat teammates Kim Warne, Kenny Wilson, and Herman Burge in completing the best season in Star-Spencer's history.

Boasting the return of several middle-distance men, the Bobcat track team hopes to improve its last year's fourth place finish in State AA competition.

Seniors

Class motto: Youth — hope of the world

One year they were underclassmen, led by older students, then in the space of only one summer, they became the leaders. This is the adjustment "Seniors '70" had to make in a few short weeks. It was up to them to get clubs and activities started with all the efficiency that is expected of a senior class.

With the motto "Youth is the hope of the world," seniors led in sports and organizations throughout the year. Among the 229 in the class, were honor students and outstanding athletes who received a variety of scholarships.

Schools depend on their upper-class to set an example for those who must shoulder the responsibility next year. The Senior class of 1970 did this for Star-Spencer.

Class of '71 repeats first place victory

Under the direction of Troy Stewart, president, Star-Spencer's junior class won first place with their Homecoming float. "Pulp the Patriots" was the winning theme. Other class officers are Karen Thigpen, vice-president; Patti Anderson, secretary; Jimmy Williams, treasurer.

All 360 juniors participated in the success of "Seniors of '71" when they voted on a class ring for all following senior classes.

With funds raised by juniors, Star-Spencer produced another sparkling Junior-Senior prom.

'Bury the Patriots' theme pockets second in parade

Starting the year by placing second in the homecoming float competition, Star-Spencer's sophomores continued the pace they had set for themselves. Adding to the success of the class of '72 were officers Pam Schroeder, president; Larry Williams and Darryl Boyles, vice-presidents; Cheryl Nixon, secretary; and Teresa Ryan, treasurer.

Food drives and contributions to charitable organizations were taken. The busy year was ended with the annual sophomore dance featuring the Glass Drum's light show.

Indianapolis Racers Drive on Shakey's Pizzas!

That's a misprint. They THRIVE on our pizza ...like everybody! 'Cause the sauce is sassier, the cheese is chewier, the crust is tenderer, and the flavor is...perfection! Bring a little lap money along and make a pit stop at Shakey's. Eat pizza, sing and have fun. In 3 hours you'll roar back on the track—full up to your chinstrap and goggles!

A large, high-contrast graphic design featuring the letters 'W' and 'S' in a stylized, calligraphic font. The letters are rendered in solid black against a light gray background. The 'W' is positioned on the left and top, while the 'S' is on the right and bottom. The design is minimalist and modern, with thick strokes and sharp curves.

OF '70

Well, here it is,
Our World. The way
We saw it one year.
We had a voice,
We found it,
We used it,
We were heard.
We had a cause,
We believed in it,
We fought for it,
We lived for it.

Schools were kept open,
 Wars were protested,
 Dress codes were changed.
 We tore down the walls
 That made people strangers.
 Walls of hypocrisy, hate, distrust.
 We were tried for our beliefs
 And we won—maybe not
 In a courtroom, but we won
 Because we made others listen and Hear us for the first time.

Through individual effort
the whole did achieve greatness.
